In developing the theme for the VOYAGER 1982, we created a fictional game board in which four symbols, which are different aspects of a game, represent the four main sections of our yearbook. The theme, The Game, was chosen specifically for its good portrayal of the cross section of Moreau's society.

We feel that games are important to the growth of humans; from young games we played as children to the large and more challenging games of adult life. Games take away the monotony from life by adding challenges, risks and excitement. Games also give us a chance to learn and experience many paths so we may find our direction as adults and become successful. Moreau does the same. By providing its students with opportunities to taste different experiences and try new things, Moreau is accepting the duty to educate us as well as prepare us for the games ahead.

The four sections of the Voyager 1982; Student Life, People, Sports, and Ads all represent our version of The Game Moreau has provided for us during the eventful year of 1981-82. As you read through the memories compiled into these pages, keep in mind The Game that we participated in. The Game that made each of us a bit wiser, a bit more daring, and more ready to enter the adult game of Life. (HK,) (RC)

Games are important in preparing us for life. They teach us and give us experience in such skill as maintaining a direction and focusing on a goal, which are crucial to surviving The Game.

The experience of The Game is one that each and every Moreau student and faculty member can identify to. The four years we spend in high school are stepping stones of our gameboard. Although these years are spent studying intently and learning and experiencing many new paths, they must be enjoyed thoroughly before The Game ends, which adds to the experience gained by us all.

Your high school years should be looked upon as the happiest and most educational years of your life. Enjoyment as well as learning add to the joy of the sought-after destination—the finish. To win this four year game of Life, we must live every moment to its fullest, to obtain as much experience as we can, and enjoy The Game before it is time to begin another. (RC)

(1) Senior class officers Janis Hyde, Jane Maloney, and Laurel Furnary, display their fanatical excitement over the Seniors' victory in Spirit Week.

As we prepare for our journey into the adult games of life, we must first play the games of our youth. How well we surpass the obstacles and display good sportmanship will determine the success we will have in adult life. The competition that we must endure and the striving toward a goal make up the essence of the games we play at Moreau.

We are taught fairness and justice in the games we play as well as alternate routes we must take to pass obstacles that block our visions of the future. The competition with one another and yourself puts sportsmanship to practice as well as it allowing you the chance to gain experience. The feeling of self-satisfaction, that key burst of energy that makes you determined to win, is well worth the stress and sometimes discouraging moments when quitting looks like the easiest way out. High school is the experimental time of our lives; trying new identities, searching for ourselves, playing new games, and preparing for our future games in Life.

Moreau successfully provides the majority of its students with the opportunities to try new games, find themselves, and prepare themselves for life. This game that is so essential to our growth does not end with our graduation. While participating in the beginning portions of this game, we must think of the glorious finish and the beautiful moments of success that will be within reach because we have kept fighting and running toward the goal and did not stop for anything.

Giving our all and striving for perfection is encouraged. The essence of gaining what is prominent in playing this game is reaching the destiny of victory. Every one of us has set personal goals in our lives, and by being a member of the Moreau community, we are being led to the goal by caring people and by peers that are doing the same as we are, leading to the destiny of victory. Homecoming 1981

Amidst candle-lit tables, dim lights, and decorations this year's annual Homecoming Dance marked the beginning of Spirit Week. Students filled the main gym and dance to the music of Search. As the dance entered its second hour, Mr. Peabody announced the princesses and escorts nominees for all four classes. In the third hour, the crowd's anticipation was finally satisfied by the announcement of the Homecoming Queen, King, and Court.

The Freshmen gave their first year honors to Megan McCormick and Chad Nightengale. Peggy Lynch and Mike Furnary stood out amongst their classmates as Sophomore representatives. The Juniors had chosen Keri Webb and Danny Perez for their enthusiasm and spirit.

Because the Seniors had felt that the usual single princess and escort weren't enough to honor the number of outstanding Seniors who had contributed so much over their four years at Moreau, this year additional princess and escort positions were added. Laurel Furnary, Julie Senn and Chris Brazil accepted their honors with pride. But in an unusual move, Thaddeus Wuest, who had also been chosen did not accept in a show of protest.

Mr. Peabody crowned Chris Denten and Cindy Chavez as Homecoming King and Queen. These two had shown commitment and dedication to the Moreau Community, Congratulations! (T.C.)

Mariner Spirit Flies Out of Control

Spirit Week 1981 provided the much-needed variety of activities and decorations that have been missing in recent years. The four classes contributed new ideas in many areas: unique hall decoration, high participation on dress-up day, and record contributions in the penny jugs. Here is a partial list of the ways each class distinguished itself during Spirit Week:

FRESHMEN: Although they were the youngest class, the Frosh united during Spirit Week and established themselves as winners. The class won the Penny Jug competition, with more money in pennies, which counted as positive points, than silver coins or paper money, which counted against the positive amount, in their Penny Jug.

SOPHOMORES: The Sophomore class did not win any particular events outright, but they were a very close second or third in almost every event. The Class of 84 is expected to be heavy competition as juniors the next year. After all, how can a class that—— as freshmen—— beat the present Seniors not come out ahead? The Class of 84 has rightfully earned the title of "The Class with class."

JUNIORS: This year's Junior class came closer to beating the ranking Seniors than anyone before. Out of a total of about 200 Spirit Week points, the margin separating the winning Seniors' and the Juniors' scores was a mere $2\frac{1}{2}$ points. If the Juniors had placed higher in any of the Spirit Week activities, the results might have been different.

SENIORS: Solidarity within the Senior class grew a hundredfold as a result of Spirit Week. Somehow the class united together and put forth the needed energy to win Spirit Week. Participation on dress-up day was nearly 100%. The normal school day was preceded by a half hour's worth of demonstrations, marching and horn-honking. Several cars were decorated in a military motif, and a large truck with a PA system was driven into the festival area during the lunch periods to rally the Senior Spirit.

New Uniforms Add Style to Field Show

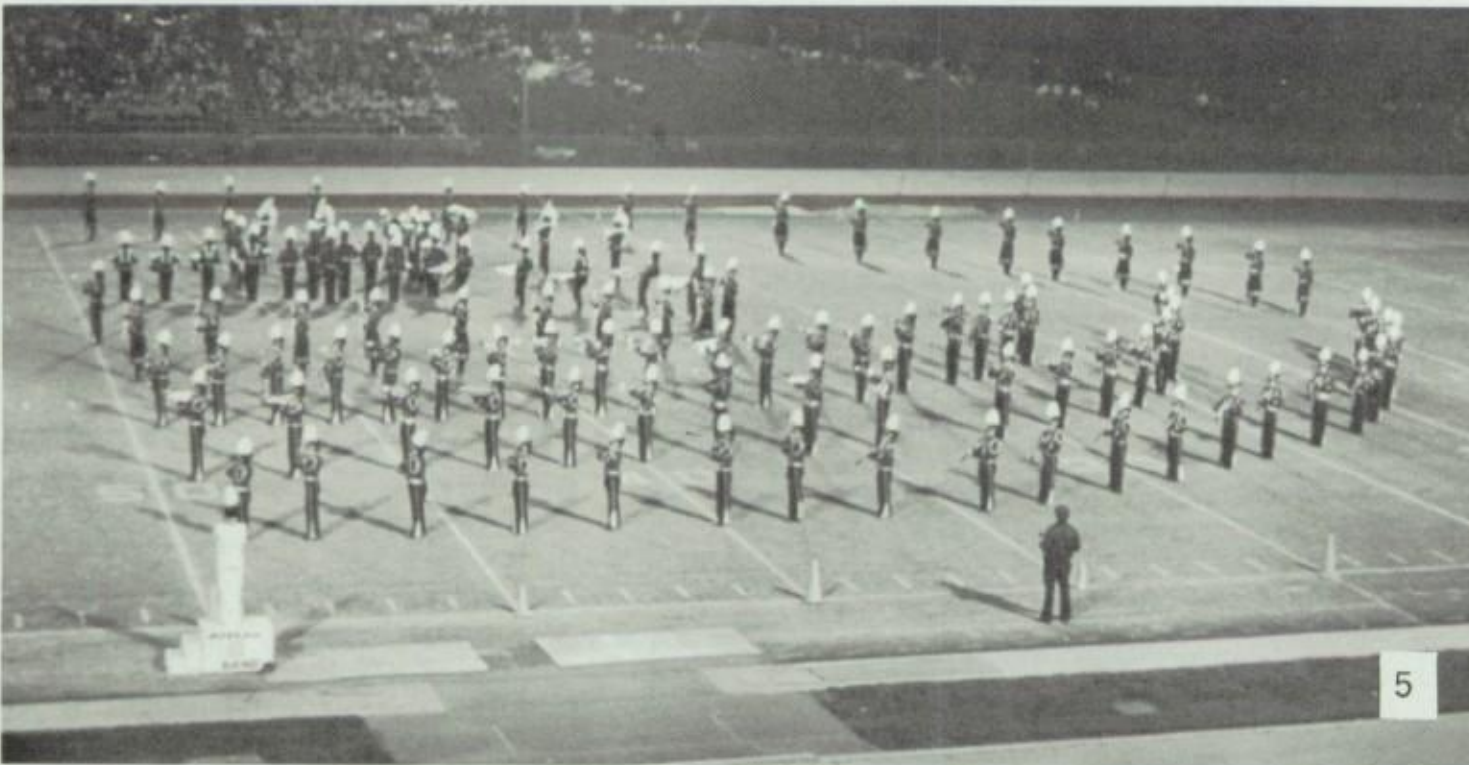

The 1981-82 season was one of the best for the Moreau High Marching Band and Colorguard. Not only did they have their best season ever, but they came close to capturing the state championship in November.

It was the Modesto Invitational that drew the most acclaim for the Band. The drum line captured first place in parade competition for the third year in a row. At night during the finals competition, Moreau won the General Effect category, and came in second overall. The top-ranked marching bands in the state were there, but Moreau didn't leave before beating the largest marching band in California.

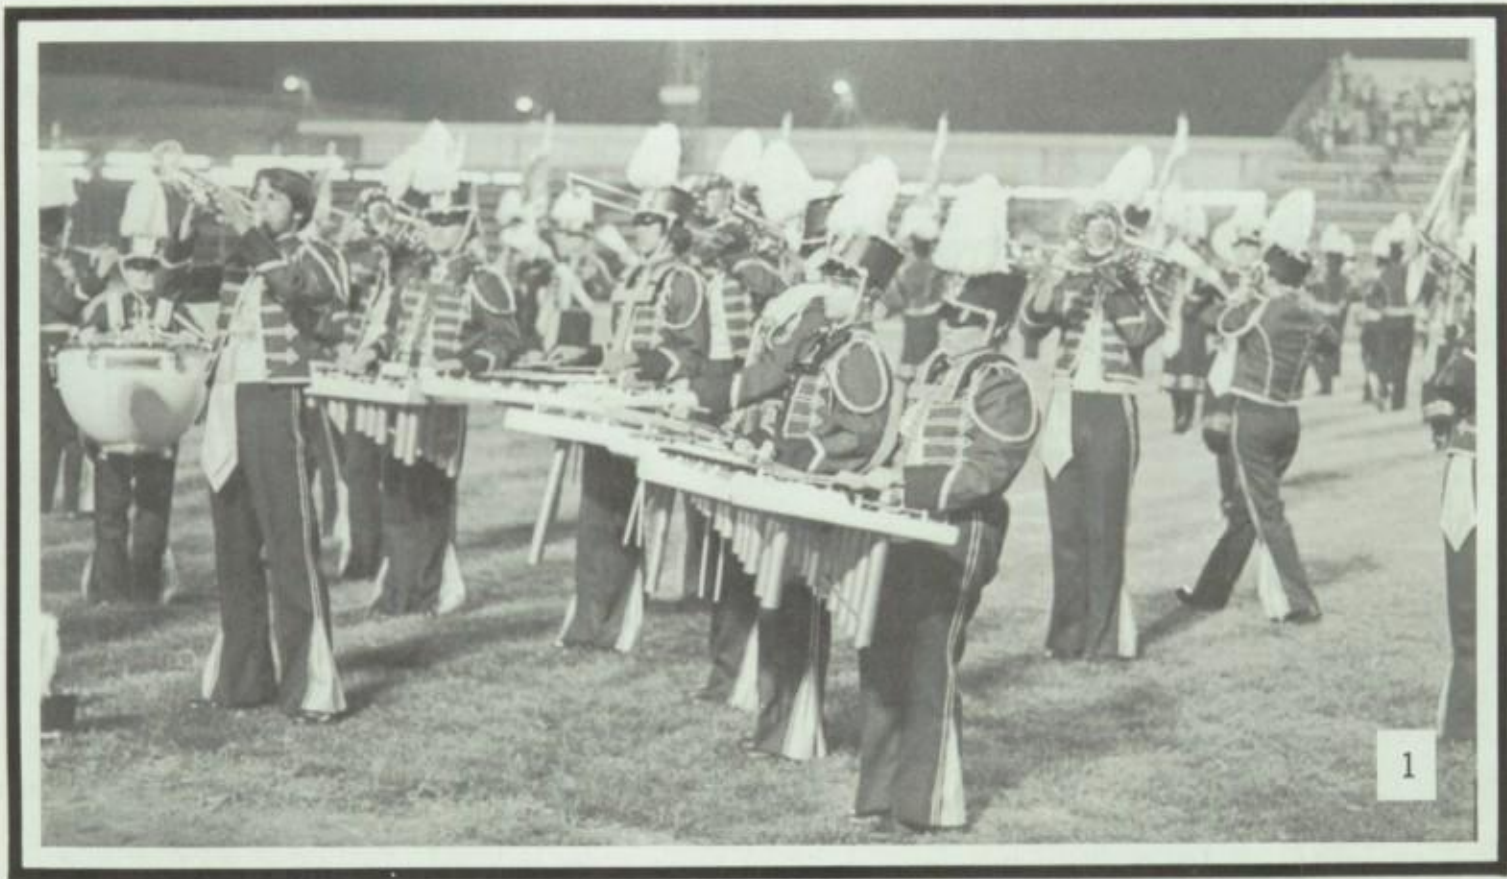

Several new additions to the marching band this year accounted for its dazzling field show. Among the additions were Mr. Pat Mester, assistant to Band Director Gary Gilroy, and new $30,000 uniforms.

(1) The Band slowly marches off the field after completing a spectacular routine in Modesto. (2) Drum Major Margaret Stevens changes the tempo of a fast-paced number. (3) The Horns wait for their musical cue before they start a new song. (4) Dan McCrossen and Dan DiLulo add a bit of creativity to the show. (5) The Marching Band lines up right before their performance at the Second annual Mariner Marching Band Invitational. (6) The clarinet line spices up a dull routine.

The Explorer

Drastic changes in staff and layout style added to the unique freshness of the Explorer this year. Unlike past years, two journalism classes participated in the publication of the newspaper as well as featured writers and columnists from the student body. With a wide range of journalists writing quality copy, and skillful page, assistant, and managing editors producing such clever and artistic layouts, the Explorer became very popular among students, faculty, and administrators.

Rachel Cirimele headed The Explorer in the position of editor. With three years experience on her side and the desire to improve the quality of the school paper from past years, she easily made evident the many long hours needed to successfully publish a school newspaper.

Assisting Rachel with the editorial responsibilities were three-year veteran journalist Harry Knapp, and newcomers Nannette Miranda, John Moroney, and Darren Renville.

Due to an ever-increasing rise of printing costs, the staff struggled to keep cost to a minimum. "The tight budget kept me from doing so much I had planned," stated Rachel. "There is too much I wanted to do."

Despite the budget problems, The Explorer staff was able to print twice as many issues as in previous years. The steady schedule of issue dates surprised many and pleased everyone.

The time and dedication put forth to make the Explorer what it was paid off for all who were involved.

Publishing a Book is not all Fun and 'Games'

The 1982 Voyager staff began the year's endeavor with some great expectations and changes in mind, but it soon became evident that the work was not to be all fun and games. However, with the experienced few assisting the newcomers, work began sailing smoothly toward a historic issue. After a rookie year as advisor, Ms. Aiello helped her staff through some controversial changes so that now they have put their trademark on a book that reflects their artistic and journalistic philosophy.

This year's book has more color, new options for extras like names stamped on the cover, a focus on individuals and was expanded to include late winter sports and activities. For the first time, the book includes spring sports, spring events and graduation as well as a preview autograph supplement.

After many hours of brainstorming for clever and innovative ideas, Editor Harry Knapp and his staff began making their dreams become a reality. Diane Heathcote, People section editor, Lani Santiago, Business editor, and Rachel Cirimele, Theme/Copy editor, assisted in perfecting the book. Dolores Miguel also returned for a second year with her new ideas. Staff members realized that the long hours had paid off once the book was out. Despite all the hard work, times of fun found their way into the yearbook room, making the work much fun and games after all. (R.C.)

The spotlight shone its magic light again this year at the annual Talent Show, uncovering lots of talents that had been waiting for the chance to show their stuff.

On the sixteenth of January, they got that chance when the show opened to a packed house. Masters of ceremony Danny Perez and John Miranda, donning crazy costumes such as dresses and hula skirts, provided a show themselves to loosen up the audience as they introduced the different acts. Four rock bands shook the stage, each more "acid" than the first. There were also dancers and stand-up comedy routines.

Colleen Goulart appeared early in the show with a song and returned later to join Ken Talken in a duet of "Endless Love." Ken also stopped the show when he took requests to juggle objects from his garbage-bag of tricks, especially when he juggled the basketball, Rubik's cube and baseball bat at once. Movie reviewers Mike Jackson and Steve Bernhardt were a hit with their hayseed version of "Sneak Previews." Robert Nunes crooned his way into many hearts with his romantic solo.

The night was memorable and enjoyable, those who dared to share their talents were rewarded with applause. We hope the talent scouts were on hand taking notes.

Leg Warmers Cover Up Fall Fashions

Leg warmers this year have really hit Moreau's fashions. Moreau girls wear them with almost anything; on regular school days with the uniform skirt, as well as free dress days with knickers.

Another fashion fad at Moreau was designer shoe laces worn around the neck in patterns such as hearts, alligators, Garfields, and of course, rainbows. But the hair fashion that seemed to be catching was the "punk" hairdo. More and more preferred to crop their hair short.

Voices

This year the Moreau chorus participated in shows presented for the student body. They sang at the Champagne concert with an orchestral accompaniment, but did no show by themselves. The chorus was led by Mr. Pat Mester.

Suspense Creeps into the Ryder Estate

An eerie feeling billowed through the Moreau campus in November as Moreau Theatre presented its first production, the comedy/mystery "Murdered Alive". The debut marked the first time a comedy was shown since 1978, with "Don't Drink the Water". Recent dramatic productions have been "Our Town" in 1979 and "A Christmas Carol" in 1980.

Present Moreau Theatre Director Brother Jerald Enos feels that "Moreau is ready for a serious comedy." Apparently many people agreed because the show attracted more people than any other fall production.

"Murdered Alive", written by Wilbur Braun, deals with the mysterious circumstances surrounding the presumed death of a rich man, Marvin Ryder. Several strange people arrive at the Ryder estate at the request of Otis Marvin, Marvin Ryder's personal lawyer, seeking their share of the Ryder wealth. Order is finally restored when Marvin Ryder himself appears. He explains that he was secretly working on an invention the entire time everyone was arguing over his will.

(7) A special delivery arrives through the window for Tillie Meek.

Hidden Talents Set the Stage

The 1981-82 theatre season was nothing less than a culmination of hidden talent from the Moreau community. Several newcomers to the technical crew of Moreau Theatre helped to build and refine sets for the two productions.

In the first production, the comedy/mystery "Murdered Alive", several additions to the standard set were needed. A false fireplace, a bookcase which pivoted open to a back passage, and a hollow grandfather's clock were constructed to meet the demands of the script.

The second production, "Hello Dolly" was a big-budget extravaganza which required a large running crew. Five persons on the crew solely moved sets into position, changed large props, and positioned drops. Two sixteen-foot ramps projected from the stage and connected in front of the audience, enclosing the orchestra. This necessitated the removal of approximately 50 seats to allow room for the ramp.

The lighting design was the most ambitious in Moreau's history. Headed by Derek Duarte, a former Moreau graduate, the lighting crew of four did nothing but work the two concentrated spotlights and the computerized dimmer board.

Dolly Gallagher Levi
(Laurel Furnary) toys with waiter Matt Hook during "Hello, Dolly!"

Moreau's greatest musical tore apart the stage for two weekends in April. HELLO, DOLLY! was presented to the Moreau community at a cost well over twice the normal yearly budget for drama. It played to packed houses and reaped generous rewards as well as standing ovations. The international hit HELLO, DOLLY! was directed and designed by Bro. Jerald Enos, C.S.C. It was his last show with Moreau Theatre, as he prepared for graduate work at UCLA.

Bro. Jerald's earlier shows included "HOW TO SUCCEED IN BUSINESS, WITHOUT REALLY TRYING", A CHRISTMAS CAROL, and KISS ME KATE.

The first weekend of the show went smoothly. A steak dinner on the first Saturday night which was sponsored by the Parent's Club and the Drama Guild had a healthy response. Larger than usual crowds saw the show and later told others about the dazzling performance. By the second weekend, the cast was both emotionally drained, from the long hours of rehearsals, and exhilarated because of audience reaction.

Closing night became the symbol of the culmination and climax of all the efforts of the cast, crew, orchestra and of Bro. Jerald and several Senior cast and crew members, because this was their last show with Moreau Theatre. The adrenalin was pumping fast through the wings of the stage as the actors prepared for the night's show. Nervousness spread as the curtain was held for over half an hour. The word finally came just before 8:30. "Sellout". It was the first time in seven years that Moreau had presented a show worthy of a sellout. It was a fitting end to Bro. Jerald's reign as head of Moreau Theatre. For many it was simply a dream come true.

(5) Dolly dances occasionally. Here she struts with waiter Mike Miu in "Hello, Dolly!". (6) "Start right in on the wine, Horace (Michael Jackson), you'll feel MUCH better!" (H.K.)

Student Government

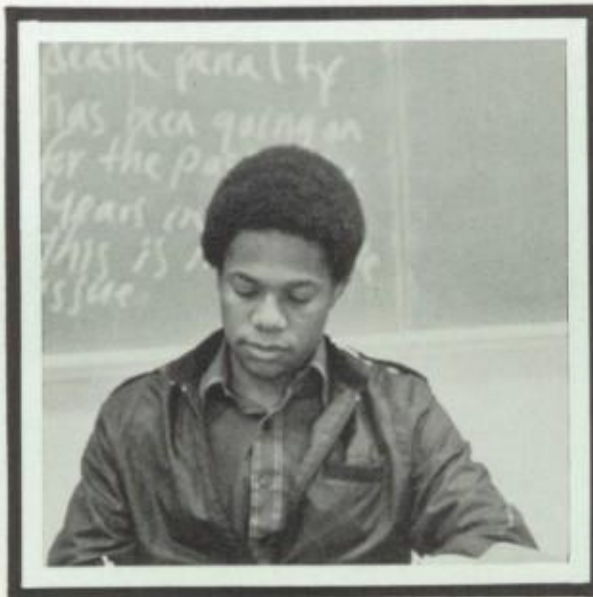

"The 1981-1982 ASB officers were a wonderful, diverse group of individuals. Together, we made both vivid rainbows and occasional chaos, but all future Moreau Student Governments will profit from the lessons which we learned and the idealism which we exhibited," summed Chris Brazil, Commissioner of Communications.

The first half of the school year was a busy and rewarding one for the ASB. It began with coordinating the Used Book Sale for the September book days, the Freshman Box Social, the Fall Blood Drive, and the retributive ordeal of Spirit Week.

Certain select members of the ASB worked diligently to stage Moreau's first Dance-a-Thon on behalf of the Somalian refugees. Because of lack of interest, it was cancelled.

The Senate Valentine Sucker Sale was a big success as it collected $300 for charity.

The ASB was also in charge of organizing the Powder-Puff Football Game, in which proceeds went to the Dimmer Board Fund for the auditorium. (R.C)

The school record for the number of units of blood donated was broken on March 18, 1982 as 218 enthusiastic able-donors gave blood. Being one of the main events of the year for the Senate, Senate Leader Lisa Varni commented that everything went smoothly and there was no doubt that it would be successful.

"I didn't realize how big of a community service being Senate Leader is," stated senior Lisa Varni. "There are few activities, but they take so much time. The job itself is very rewarding because everything is done for other people." Lisa commended the elected class representatives and described the 1981-82 Senate as, "being full of very cooperative people I could depend on."

Other activities the Senate participated in included the Valentine Sucker Sale, with the sale of approximately 1600 valentines. Three hundred dollars of the profits went to charity.

"It was a successful year that we will not easily forget," said Lisa. (R.C.)

Groups Come Together To Serve Our Community

During the 1981-1982 school year, the California Scholarship Federation was an active part of the Moreau community. College field trips to Stanford in the fall and to U.C. Davis in the spring exposed club members to some important aspects of college life. The tutoring program, in its second year, gave club members an opportunity to help their fellow students while abiding by the club's motto, "Scholarship for Service." C.S.F. officers for 1981-1982 are: Robert Garcia, President; Judy Nipay, vice-president; Julia Heinlein, Secretary-Treasurer; and Cheryl Miranda, tutoring program coordinator.

The Interact club, headed by Bro. Joseph Connell and Tony Avila, is a service club to the Moreau community, city of Hayward, and the world-at-large. They are supported by the Hayward Rotary Club. Their primary motive "to serve" has been displayed in their organization of Join-A-Club Week, the Christmas hall decorations, and assistance at school dances.

Cheryl Miranda, Robert Garcia, Julie Heinlein, and Bob Collins are some of the members of the California Scholarship Federation.

Current Events

The Current Events this year have ranged from Reagonomics to the San Francisco 49ers winning the Super Bowl. Mediterranean Fruit Flies seemed to play the biggest part in California in 1982. President Ronald Reagan was desperately trying to help the budget. The Space Shuttle Columbia was a surprise to the world. The Shuttle went into space and came back again. Now it can be used again in the future. And, of course, we can't forget that enormous flood that made us practically float away. What a year!! (DC)

This year at Moreau, Diocesan aid and grants allowed the school to build a new ramp from the main part of the school to Garin. This ramp was to redirect some of the traffic from one side to the other.

The Marquee was bought with money made during the Powder Puff Football game of 1981 and a percentage of every activity for the past couple of years. This way we could advertise what went on with the Mariners. Although it was quite expensive, it was well worth the cost. (D.C.)

Christmas Ball

Music filled the room as everyone, from Freshmen to Seniors, danced and swayed to the swinging beat of the music at this year's Christmas Ball. For the second consecutive year, the Christmas Ball was held in the cafeteria, and again the beautifully decorated room, and pleasant atmosphere made the Christmas Ball, "Christmas by Starlight", a night enjoyed by all. A Night With Daddy

The Father/Daughter Dance was a success this year with the theme of Carousel. This event took place in Garin gym in March, from 8-11. People danced to records from the disc-jockey, "Blow your socks off", who played various types of music from country to Punk Rock. But nothing seemed to stop the dear-old dads! This was indeed a night with daddy to remember! (D.M.)

(1) Joanne Lucas and her father boogie to the beat of "Blow Your Socks Off". (2) Laurie Baca and her dad take time out to reflect on the past. (3) Kim Ormond and her father sing with the music. (4) Janeen Rubino and her father share happy moments together.

The First Dance

This was an occasion the girls had been waiting for a long time. It was the Sadie Hawkins Dance invitations made and all expenses paid by the girls.

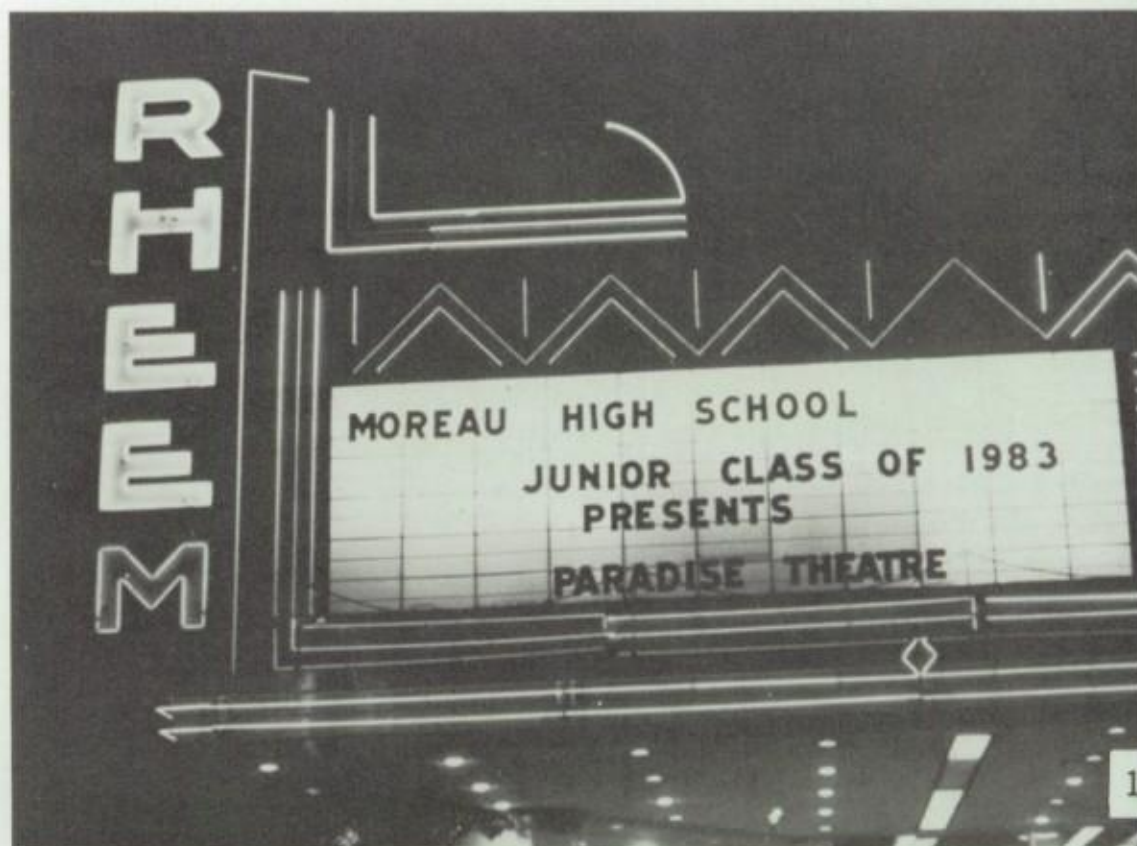

Music and laughter filled the gym on March 7th from 8-11. Highlights of the dance were as the following: a marriage ceremony in which the couple had their marriage vows announced and received a certificate, and pictures taken with a couple of hay stacks. Everyone had a great night.

(1) Michelle Andre and her boyfriend Carlos say "Hey, we are here". (2) Doreen Schauer and a friend groove to the music. (3) Monica Thompson, Ken Talken, Regan Candelario, and Allison Clausen take a sit-down break. (4) A freshman couple sing and boogie to the beat.

Junior Prom

Students gathered together under the lights of the Rheem Theatre for their all important Junior Prom, held on April 3rd. The theatre and those present were rocked by the dynamic and energetic sounds of "Atlantis", and the pleasant atmosphere made the Junior Prom, Paradise Theatre Featuring "The Best of Times" a night enjoyed by all. (DiM)

(1) The Rheem Theatre announces the Junior Prom. (2) Mike Mercado shows that his Junior Class is definitely #1. (3) Melanie Robinson reflects on the evening. (4) Arnel Campos and date are enthused with the people around them.

Senior Ball

The romantic, magical evening of May 13, 1982 was a mere beginning down "The Long and Winding Road" for the Senior class as they danced the night away at the Senior Ball, 1982.

The Galleria Design Center in San Francisco hosted the last dance of the year. The evening was highlighted by the stunning design and atmosphere of The Galleria LaZer Boy provided the music.

The unique design of The Galleria allowed the top of the building to be opened, and those attending the Senior Ball were able to dance under the starry sky of the evening.

The memories made that evening were special and will remain with all who attended for a long time to come. (R.C.)

(1) Stephanie Homen and David Ghigliazza enjoy the charming atmosphere of the Senior Ball. (2) Seniors arrive at The Galleria Design Center in style.

(3) Couples dance to the beat of LaZer Boy. (4) Guests absorb the elegance and splendor of the evening. (5) Tonie O'Reilly and date relax during the fun-filled evening. (6) LaZer Boy entertains the enthusiastic crowd.

Seniors Graduate on a Sunday Afternoon

On Sunday, May 23, the graduating class of 1982 gathered together for the last time. The Paramount Theater was the setting for the Fourteenth Annual Commencement.

Elizabeth Belda welcomed her class and guests to this very important day in her salutatorian speech. Jane Maloney, valedictorian, then addressed the class with encouragement and wishes of good luck. After the ceremony the graduates gathered outside the theater for their final good-byes. (T.C.)

(1) Friends and relatives gather outside clinging to their precious commencement tickets. (2) Janeen Rubino finds a friend in the crowd after graduation. (3) Carmen Castro finally realizes what it means to graduate.

(4) Grace Dicker is overjoyed with her achievement. (5) Colleen Goulart is lost in a maze of people. (6) Graduating band members perform together for the last time. (7) Kevin Afonso, Andy Brunelli, and Vince Bevilacqua try to alphabetize themselves before the ceremony.

I THINK TEACHERS SHOULD ...

DEREK NASARIO, '82: Not work as hard as they do for the money they earn.

REGINA BURIGSAY, '82: Treat us the way they want to be treated. Some should be fired; some are perfect.

ANNETTE ARELLANO, '85: Try to be more understanding.

ERIC VENDEROSTYNE, '85: Eliminate the problems of cheating and bad grades by writing the answers to the tests on the board.

DORETTA CARBONE, '82: Have a year's vacation, be more educated, be like Mrs. Galloway, be like Mr. Lane, and surf their way through the year.

BETH HORMEL, '84: Make learning fun and interesting by adding more movies, learning games, and field trips to their everyday classes.

KAPIOLANI SANTIAGO, '82: Lay off on some of the homework. I don't think they realize theirs are one of six classes.

JOHN WEAVER, '85: Not be allowed to cut in front of kids in cafeteria lines. Our money is as good as theirs.

KAREN RUEDA, '83: Be paid more because these are the people whom we hold responsible for teaching the people who will control the world tomorrow.

MIKE DEARBORN, '84: Be given medals for putting up with our feeble excuses for tardiness, missing assignments, etc. (But my brother really did eat my homework!)

ROSEMARY CAVIGLIA, '82: Keep in mind that students are not going to respect teachers until teachers respect students.

CHERI JAMES, '82: Give the kids a break after they've been absent. Some teachers give tests on the day you get back and you had to take it, ready or not.

KEITH MASON, '83: Be paid more, at least some of them!

LORRAINE PEREIRA, '83: Take care of the class right from the beginning. The first impression is the most important.

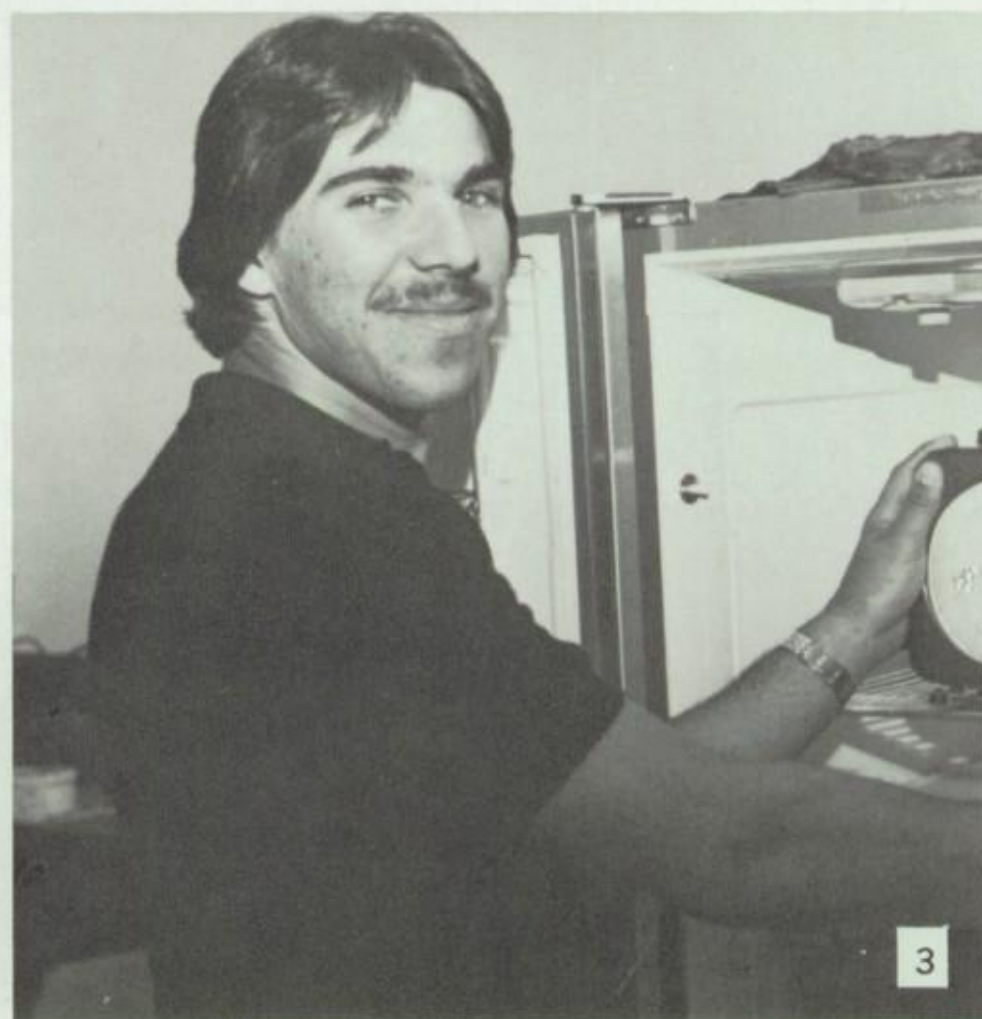

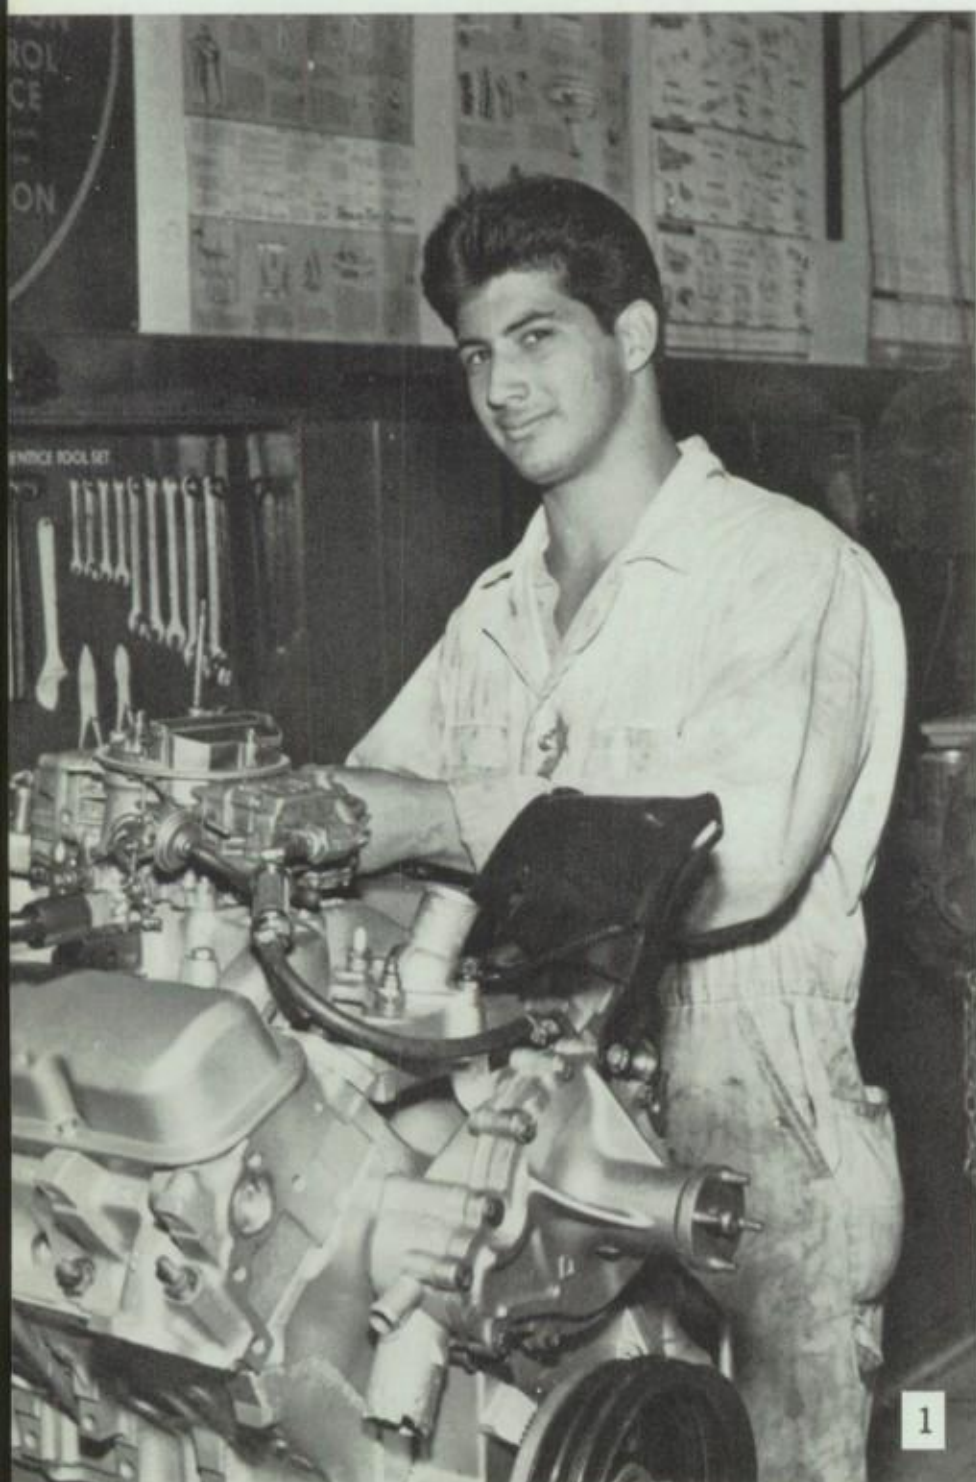

PAULA AIELLO, '82: Stand up and be counted.

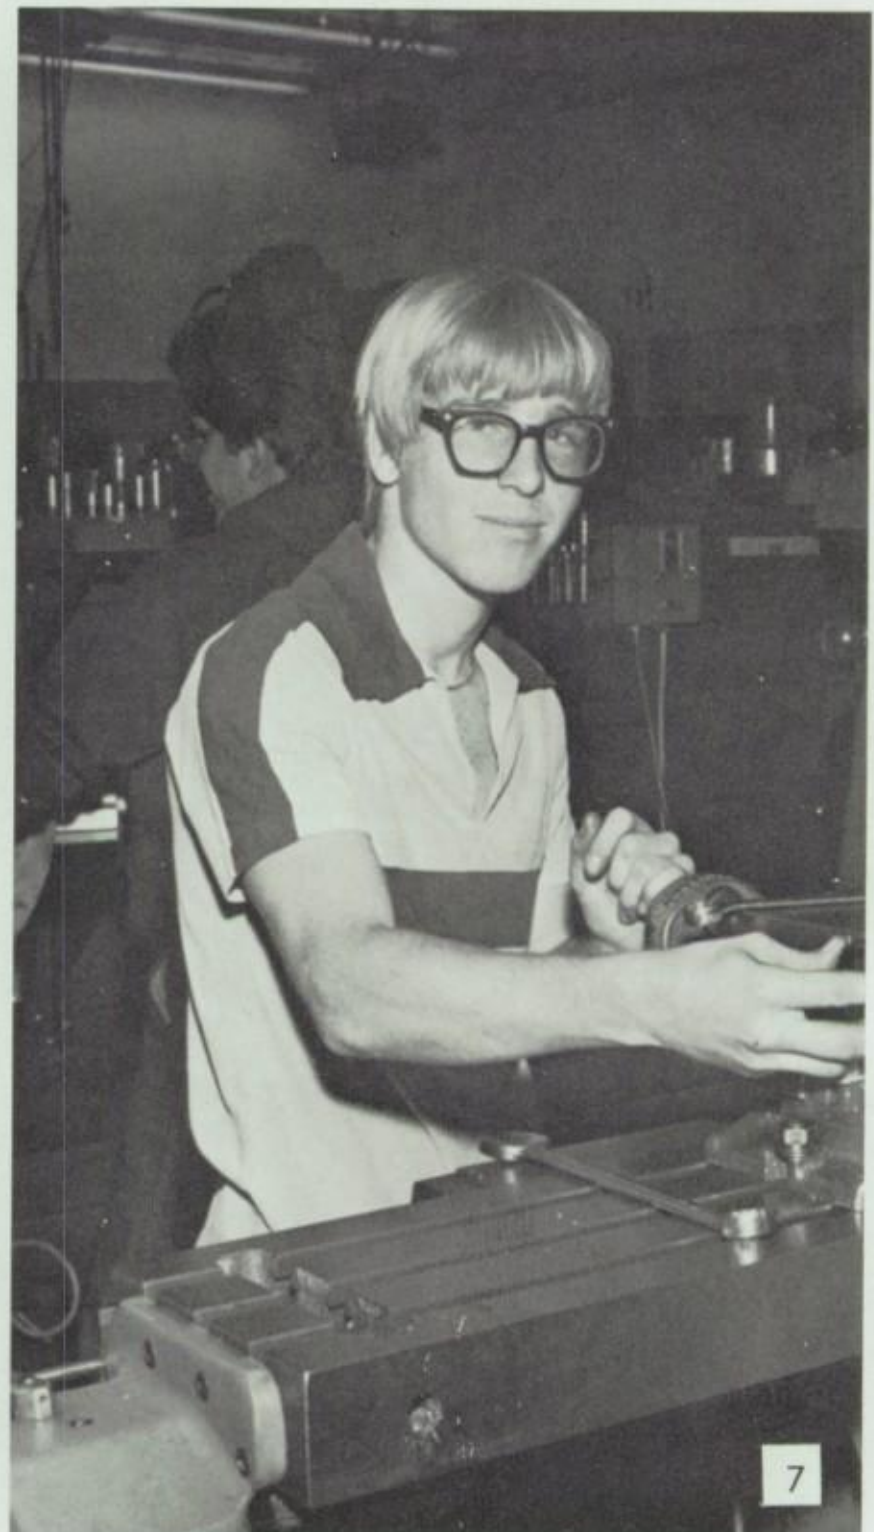

SEAN HARMUTH, '84: Spend some time in class telling us why we are learning what we're learning and how it's going to help us when we graduate.

Time to Look Ahead

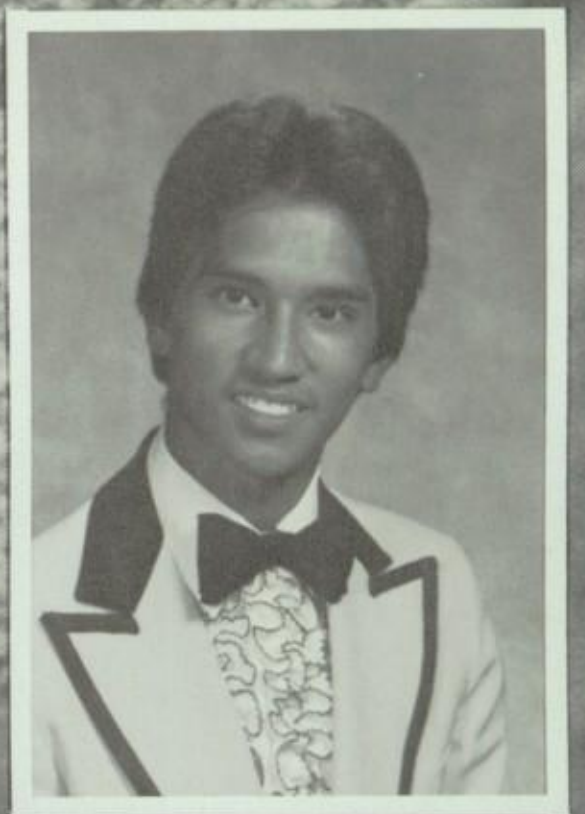

The Vocational Center offers Moreau students a wide range of skills to learn. These skills will help many of the students in their future careers. Some of the courses offered are auto mechanics, data processing, upholstery, carpentry, and machine shop. (DH)

(1) Art Aguilar shines up an engine in auto mechanics. (2) Pete Johnson works on a car in auto mechanics. (3) Rob Dias takes a special course in air conditioning. (4) Ed Chicoine learns many skills in data processing. (5) Eric Eaton takes a minute from auto mechanics to smile for a picture. (6) David Maldonado shows his talent in upholstery repairing. (7) John Winslow advances his knowledge about machines in machine shop.

Bikers Are 'Outspokin'

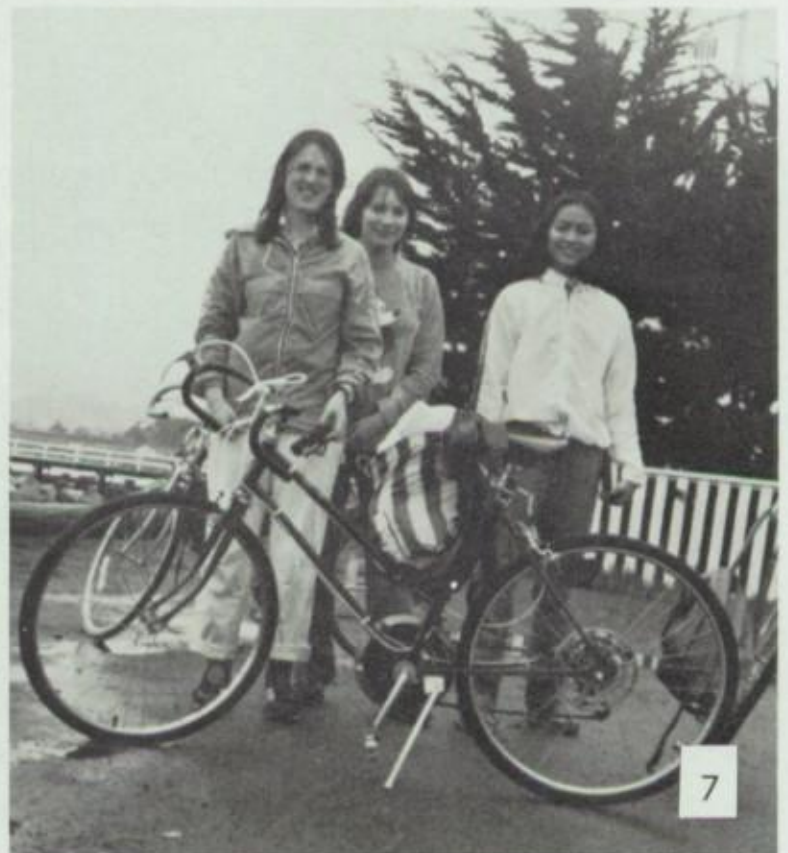

Moreau's biking club traveled to many places this year. Mr. Larry Long is the club moderator, junior Henry Dacier was the President, and senior Susan Promes was the Vice-President and also the Secretary/Treasurer. These three people have a lot of responsibility to the club.

The club's first trip was to Yosemite. They also traveled to Angel Island, Pier 39, Napa Valley (where they did some wine tasting and rode 27 miles without stopping) 6 Missions, and Lake Tahoe (which was their last trip). The 6 missions included San Francisco, Santa Cruz, Carmel, San Juan Bautista, Santa Clara and San Jose. The whole journey was 200 miles.

The club had a lot to offer if you like to travel and especially if you like to get a lot of exercise. They rode whether it was sunny or rainy, and they all seemed to handle it pretty well. (DH)

(1) Larry Long loves to ride his bike while wearing his new leg warmers. (2) Estifania Licad, Cathy Oliver, Shannon O'Carroll, Chris Low, Mike Miu and Sue Promes stop off at Angel Island to take a rest. (3) Richard Oliver, Mike Miu and Henry Dacier check out the sites at Napa Valley. (4) Larry Long, Mike Miu, Cathy Oliver, Enny Halkyer, and Henry Dacier wait patiently to be served at the Auberge Restaurant in Napa Valley. (5) Estifania Licad, and Shannon O'Carroll stop off at Fort, Point in S.F. (6) Estifania Licad, Shannon O'Carroll, and Cathy Oliver take a break today at McDonald's. (7) Not even rain can stop Shannon O'Carroll, Cathy Oliver, and Estifania Licad from riding.

Cheerleaders Better than Ever

The dynamic VARSITY SPIRIT SQUADS for the 81-82 school year were composed of four returning varsity veterans and seven fresh faces. These award winning squads of dedicated mariners worked hard all during the summer right on throughout the school year. These girls could be seen practicing long and hard for their many competitions. To their surprise, their sweat and tears paid off both on the game field at half time, and on the numerous competitions. The cheerleaders placed 5th at Omega, 1st at St. Mary's, while the Songgirls placed 8th at Omega, 3rd at St. Mary's and 1st at U.S.A. summer camp.

Their year was filled with many competitions, games, rallies and other events that promoted school spirit.

The inspiration and spirit these girls have devoted to the proud Moreau community has been greatly appreciated and well worth while. (T.C.)

Dungeons and Dragons

Several Moreau Students this year played the complex game of Dungeons and Dragons. Dungeons and Dragons is a fantasy role playing game that continues for days, weeks, and even months at a time. The moderators, Mrs. Glass and Mr. O'Keefe, and the members meet bi-weekly to play this extraordinary game. They write their own rules and set their own limitations. The players consist of a dungeon master, who runs the game, and others who assume roles such as magic user, cleric, and warriors. The object of the game is to overcome villains and monsters, and to search for and gain treasures.

(1) Julian Fontain tries to plan his next strategic move.
(2) Attempting to advance his fantasy character safely, Bill Sahl double checks his decision. (LS)

French Club

The French Club provided activities to teach the members French culture. This year the group had a very interesting year. They went on a picnic to open the year. The Varni family graciously opened their home for the Christmas party. Singing in a Convalescent Home filled the elderly with joy. One Sunday, they went to a French Church in San Francisco, and ate Croissants on the way home. To close the year this active group had dinner at Des Alpes, a Basque restaurant.

(1) Cheryl Burton laughs at Joselyn Yuson's joke. (2) Dixie Roldan and Danine De Angelo listen carefully to Carrie Kawalski's ideas. (3) Shannon O'Carrol thinks over the plans for next weekend. (4) The French Club. (LS)

Men Cook Up a Storm

This year at the Senior Box Social, the guys showed off their cooking talents to the waiting hungry girls. Some people dined by candle light, while others dined by arrangements of garden weeds. Some ate crab and steak, while others ate homemade peanut butter and jelly sandwiches.

After the elegant dining, they sat and watched a slide show of recent years. Then they danced and everyone was showing off his/her dancing techniques. It was a night the Seniors will remember. (D.C.)

(1) Gina Lombard and Michelle Andre express their close friendship. (2) Regina Burigsay looks like she has ideas of things other than dancing with Rich Alayra. (3) Kevin Afonso, Rico Bevilacqua, and Vince Bevilacqua go all out in class to serve peanut butter and jelly sandwiches to their dates Sue Bonvincino, Margurite Shrader, Regina Burigsay, Debbie Padilla, and Elizabeth Harmuth.

Students Discover Roots of Government

The slogan "CU in DC" was seen through out Moreau Community this year. The support received was great. Mr. Weiss, Mr. Wilder, and thirty-seven Moreau Juniors and Seniors participated in the trip. The cost of $794.00 was defrayed by the many fund raisers. The students for the first time hosted a gracious wine tasting evening at Via Armondo Winery, a very successful pizza night in New Park Mall, a candy sale, and many students did private soliciting. All of the fund raisers help to make it a successful trip for more students to attend.

Close-Up in D.C. is just that. It is an opportunity to have a first hand account of the American Government in action. A very full one week was enjoyed by all, it was educational, interesting, filled with fun, and the experience of making new friends with students from other states. A few of the highlights were the day on Capitol Hill, a night tour of the monuments, a pizza party, a night at the theater, and a Banquet Dinner Dance on the last night in D.C.

The Moreau Students, through the special arranging of Mr. Weiss, had the privilege of speaking with Mr. Edwin Meese, the Special Assistant to the President.

We students at Moreau appreciated the yearly Close-Up trip; it helped us to know, understand, and learn to be active citizens of America, and to appreciate the freedom of democracy. (L.S.)

The Finer Things in Life

The Ecology Club experienced a fun-filled year. The members took various excursions, such as a save the whales walk-a-thon, and an exciting trip to the San Mateo Coast to watch the whales. The thrilled group spotted and followed three whales for about one and one half hours. They came within twenty feet from the whales. The active group also held fund raisers, such as recycling cans and selling environmental gifts which included animal posters, and environmental stationary. (L.S.)

(1) Carol Sterbentz and Debbie Spillers proudly display their certificate of completion after the walk-a-thon. (2) Theresa Pasion, Carol Sterbentz, Mary Ann Reno, and Debbie Spillers investigate a newly found environmental specimen. Latinos Unidos

Under the moderation of Toni Lisoni, the El Mayo club was able to reform into the Latinos Unidos Club. The club's officers include Velma Vizcarra-President, Valerie Perez-Vice President, Teri Sanchez-Secretary, Pete Avila-Treasurer, and Frankie Cabrales-Sergeant at Arms.

The club participated in some events this year including Meet Moreau Day, selling nachos during lunch and sponsoring a dance with the Polynesian Club. The club's membership has been outstanding this year and the club hopes to expand and participate in more events next year.

During Meet Moreau Day, Velma Vizcarra models the club T-shirt.

At a meeting, Keith Clayton, Velma Vizcarra, Michelle McMearn, and Laura Moreno review a photo album of the latest car show.

Celebrating Portuguese Culture

The Portuguese Club was newly added to the Moreau Community and reflected the pride of the Portuguese people of Moreau. Although the club did not contain many members, those who were involved took interest in their heritage. The club is moderated by Mrs. Candell, with members including Teresa Barreto-President, Dolores Miguel-Vice President, Diane Miguel-Sec./Treas., Mike Quebbeman, Angie Sousa, Gina Bartholomew, Stacy Thompson, Mary Galvin, Evelyn Lucas, and Letitia Scott.

The Portuguese Club was very involved in the activities of Meet Moreau Day. A display was set up and sweet bread and donuts were sold. The folklore group "Youth of Portugal in Action" which contained members Teresa Barreto and Dolores and Diane Miguel, brought folklore dancing as done in Portugal.

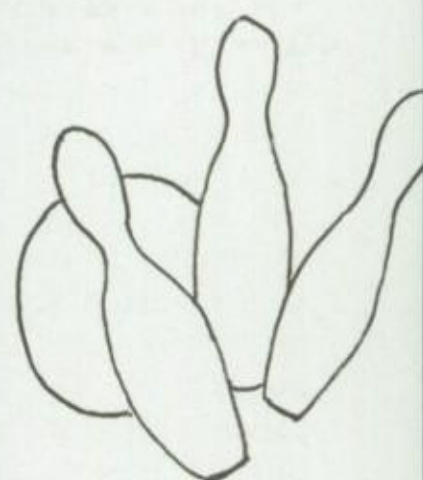

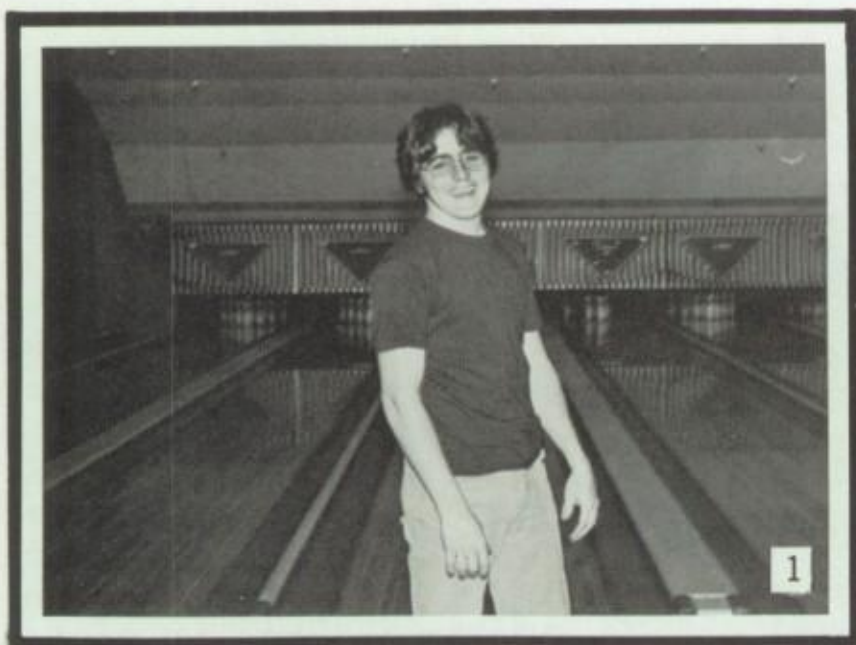

The Portuguese Club admits to having an enjoyable year and it hopes to involve many new members to make it an enthusiastic, out-going club. (Di.M.)

This year, the powerful Moreau bowlers' took to the lanes with determination and grace. Out of eighteen teams, only one could make it to the top. The team with the most talent, skill and class, better known as "Wipe Out," became league champs. The team members were Bill Jones (150), Rich Alayra (156), and John Kroeckel (147). Other stand-outs were the Orient Express, an all-girl team, John Romero, who blew the league away with a 205 average and Rob Fischer with a strong 195 average. Let's not forget Carl DeHaven and John Hathaway who promise to be dominating forces in the league in the coming years. (K.K.)

Special Meaning in Father Moreau Week

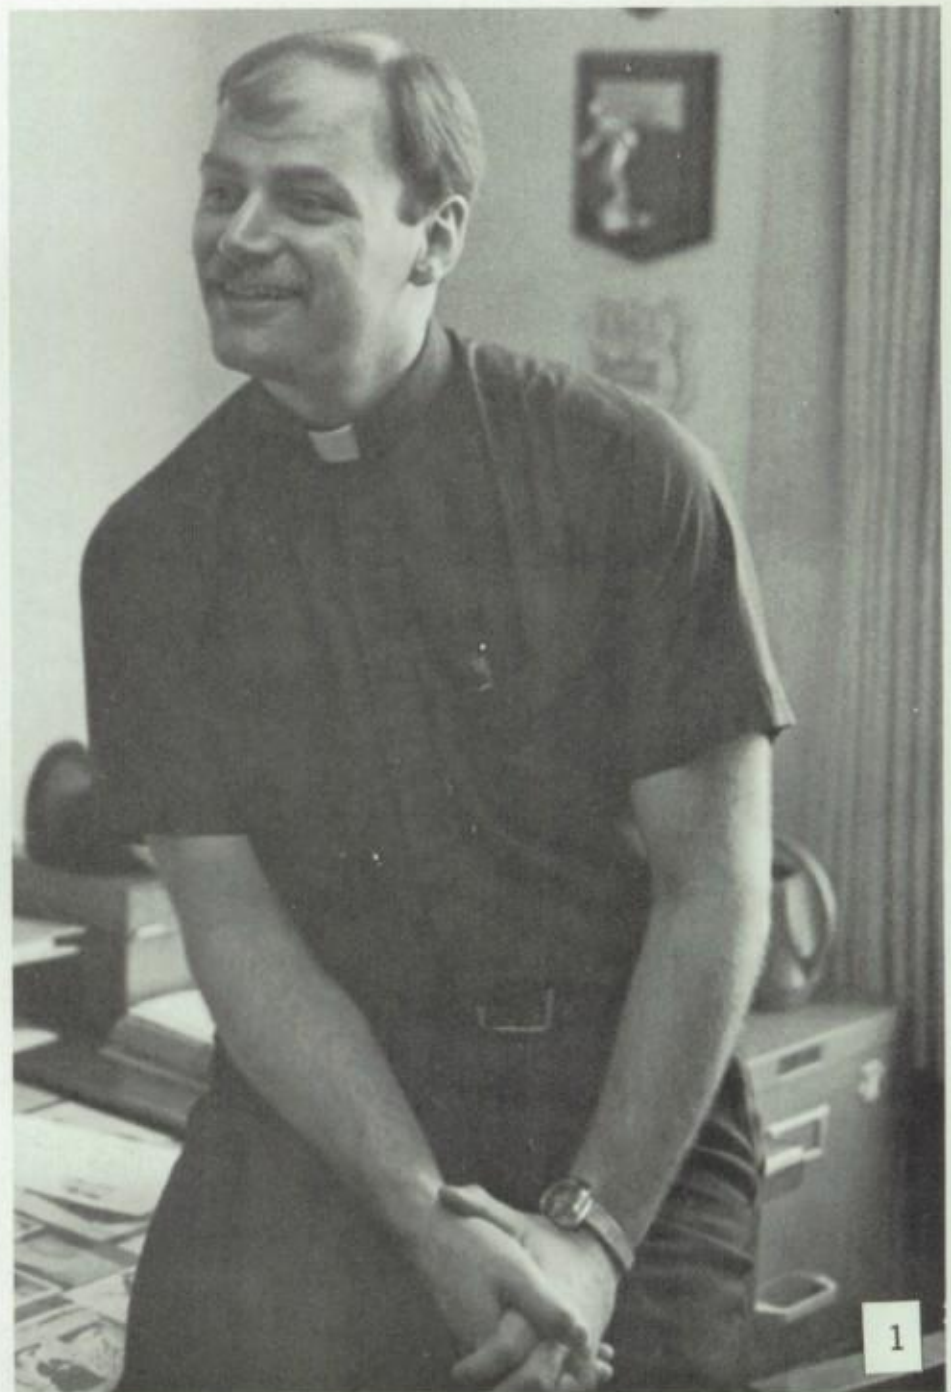

Father Moreau Week, under the special theme, "The Least of my Brethren: A Christian Response to Justice," was the highlight of the year for Campus Ministry. The week-long celebration of Father Moreau's ministry included a multimedia production, and a "Poor Man's Supper," which was a dinner consisting of soup, bread, and a beverage, eaten as a sacrifice to all the hungry of the world. It ended exceptionally with a school-wide mass served by Bishop John Cummins.

Changes in retreat formats and locations also remained a time consuming job for the Campus Ministry staff, which was headed by Father Edward Kaminski, CSC, and Ms. Toni Lisoni. Student staff members Bob Garcia and Sue Promes assisted in the many activities and services provided by the Ministry.

The annual Thanksgiving Food Drive, coordinated by Bob Garcia and Sue Promes, was once again very successful in providing 32 local families with food for the feast that they may have been without otherwise.

For the second year, student Eucharistic Ministers were chosen to serve the Moreau community at school masses. Seniors Rachel Cirimele, Chris Denten, Laurel Furnary, and Mark Szto were on hand to assist Father Ed with communion at masses throughout the year.

The goal of getting more students active in Campus Ministry this year enabled many to become involved and was therefore successful in serving our community.(RC)

In Focus Snaps Through The Year

In Focus was our photography club. This was its second year and it seemed to be progressing well. Val Barnard, club president, stated that, "The object of this club is to promote a better techniques through instruction and practice." Mr. Rich Dutra and Mr. David Fryman moderated the club.(DC)

THE WIRE FENCE

*The wires are holding hands around the holes;
 To avoid breaking the ring, they hold tight
 the neighboring wrist,
 And it's thus that with holes they make a fence.*

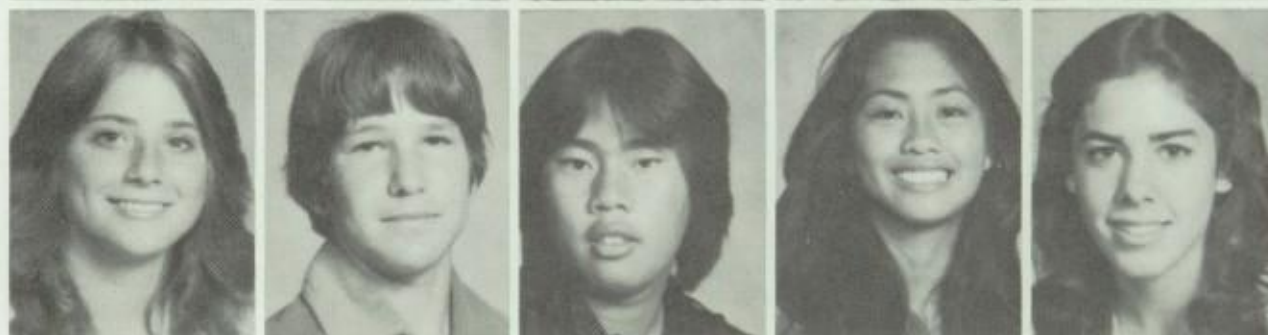

*Lord, there are lots of holes in my life.
 There are some in the lives of my neighbors.
 But if you wish, we shall hold hands,
 We shall hold very tight,
 And together we shall make a fine roll of fence to adorn Paradise.*

Did you know that Junior Judy Nipay has been designing clothes since she was a freshman? She says she designs the clothes that are in fashion simply because she "loves to."

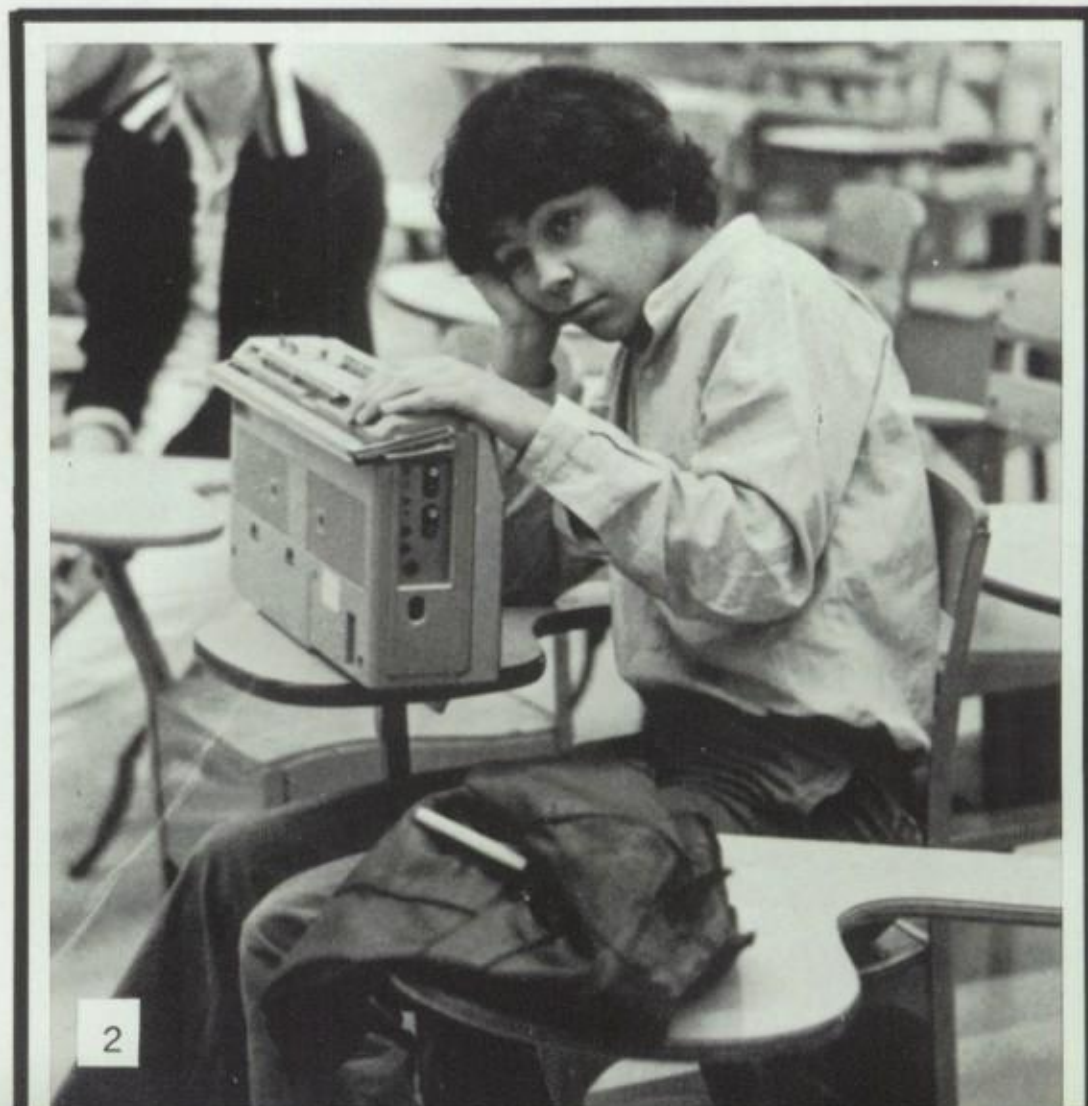

She has had many of her designs made into clothes. She goes back to the Phillipines where she has people who make the clothes from her designs.

Even though she enjoys designing very much, it will be just a sideline when she one day starts medical school. Judy has been asked by the Fashion Institute in San Francisco for an appointment to discuss the possibility of attending the school after graduation. We wish her the best of luck! (T.O.)

"Working with the student has given me faith in the youth of today," commented Mrs. Puccini, Moreau's helpful ditto and mimeographer. Mrs. Puccini, involved in the Moreau community for thirteen years, enjoys taking part in the daily functioning of Moreau. Her part in the Parents' Club and mailing for the Booster Club are just a few of her activities aside from her busy position.

"Being able to work with other faculty and administration has been a rewarding aspect of the years I have been here", Mrs. Puccini confessed. Working well with other faculty has given her a more relaxed and enjoyable environment to accomplish her daily duties. (Di.M.)

Ms. Christine Brown, Co-ed Physical Education and Drivers Education teacher, has had an interesting past. At fourteen she held the national record in the 100 yard dash and she was the top 2A team in the Women's Division Track Team. In the National Division, she placed fifth. Ms. Brown even went to the National Junior Olympics and won a trip to San Diego.

Ms. Brown has taught for two years here at Moreau. This year she also started an exercise class in the evenings for everyone who wants to be fit. Her dream was to go to the Olympics. As it seems now, she would like to become an Olympic "coach". We hope Ms. Brown's dream comes true. (D.C.)

Mr. Collins has been at Moreau for four years. He has been involved at Moreau as a member of the Faculty Representative Committee, Senate Moderator, and Business Department Chairperson. He has taught a variety of business classes: Accounting, Business Law, Personal Typing, Consumer Economics, and Record-keeping.

Besides teaching, Mr. Collins has worked full and parttime jobs during summer and Christmas vacations. He's worked as everything from warehouseman/secretary to assistant buyer/department sales manager to claims representative to journeyman-retail clerk. "As you can see, my work experience has been varied and has included much work outside the teaching profession. However, I really love teaching the best and especially enjoy working with high school students," said Mr. Collins.

Mr. Collins has been married for nine years and has two children. His family life is very important to him and he's especially interested in helping his two children prosper. His wife doesn't work full time so she spends a great deal of time with the children. Since she is trained professionally as a nurse, she could easily work full time "but we both like her home with the kids." He says, too, that he's an "avid reader of novels," though it's a mystery where he finds the time. (T.C.)

Have you heard a thick Scottish accent in the halls this year? Well it belonged to Michael 'Scotty Flynn'. Mr. Flynn is a history teacher and also coach of the Girls' Soccer team. But Mr. Flynn is much more than just a history teacher and coach, he has other interests.

He played soccer in Scotland where he lived and enjoys it very much. He made an excellent coach this year. He commented on how in Scotland soccer is played with much more emphasis and it is very strict.

The first impression of Moreau was good he was very happy with how friendly the students were. He noted that the students were willing to learn.

The students were lucky to get a chance to meet a teacher who could also be a friend.

Long Leads His People

Larry Long chaired the Religion Department for a second year during which the members made several changes, had many new ideas and improved the program a lot. Plans were made to expand the elective program next year which will give juniors and seniors a wider variety of classes to choose from. The junior and senior classes will be mixed. Another plan is for the department to be more outspoken on issues relating to social justice and the world community.(K.B.)

*Mr. Morneau Brings
"Sports and Society" to Class*

"Sports is a reflection of our society," said Mr. Morneau about his new Sports and Society course. Mr. Morneau first proposed the idea for this class three years ago. He felt that there was a need for such a class since 80% of the student body is involved in sports at Moreau. They should see what is going on and learn about its impact on society.

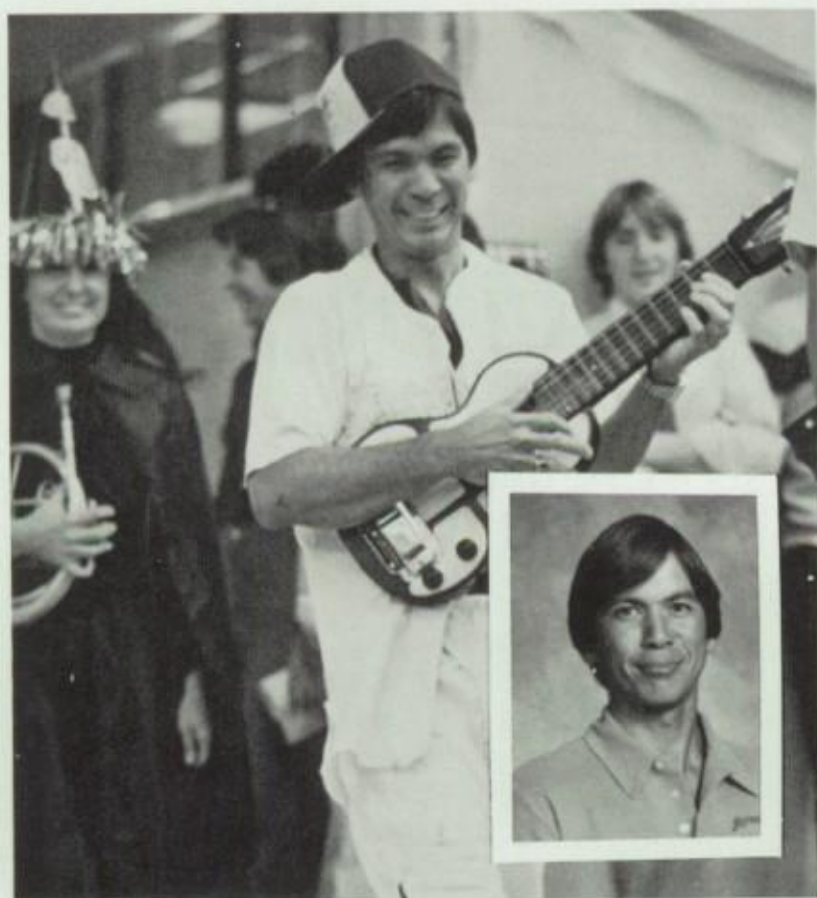

In class, students talked about the behavior of the fans and the players. They discussed racism and its effects on sports as it effects society. They looked at the changes in women's participation in sports. He also introduced issues of the economics of sports.

Those who signed up really liked the class; there was a lot of positive feedback.

He was "more than satisfied with the success of the class." It will be offered again next year.(T.O.)

Moreau Comes Back Fighting

The Moreau Varsity Football team proved to be the best ever in recent years. They struggled to the top against all odds. They never quit. Moreau had a new coach this year, Mr. Tim Walsh. Where as such a change is often a disadvantage, it turned out to be a real advantage to us this year. For the first time in four years, Moreau came back fighting, really challenging any other team who dared to play the Mighty Marieners. They soon proved we were "number one".(DC)

Kicks It Off

The Junior Varsity Football Team kicked it off for a good season in fourth place. The season record was 7-3, but the effort and outstanding plays seemed to transcend the record. In one game against St. Mary's, Geno Zertuche gave the crowd a hair-raising exhibition. He scored all 17 points and caught a touchdown pass with only a minute left in the game. Geno and the rest of the team would certainly be serious competition in varsity play in the next season. (DC)

Frosh Team Up For A Good Year

The Frosh teamed up for a good season. Not only did the Mariners play with combined talent, poise and dermination, but they also captured the CAL title with a season record of 6-1. The Mariners were led by the outstanding plays of Mike Salido, Joe Jacques, Chad Nightingale, Mike Ogolin, Mike Rebello, David Borghi, Todd McGrew, John Garcia, and Gilbert Abeyta. The whole team played exceptionally well.

Doing It On The Run

Varsity Cross Country runner Steve Soto first began running with the Mariners as a freshman and he has done well in leading the varsity runners of 1981-1982 to a successful season. Steve claims that his best season was this year because his speed increased, although he placed better in past years.

Steve enjoys the family atmosphere shared by the team and states that, "It really has increased my involvement in Moreau." When asked if it interrupted his social life or grades, he said being on a team like cross country increases his social life and really does not take away from study time. The avid long distance runner prefers to run in silence, which means no cars! He enjoys trails that are shady. In addition to his participation on the cross country team, he is a member of CSF and Block M, which he earned as a freshman. Steve had been a scorekeeper for Little League baseball for six years, also.

Steve will continue running and plans to do so in the fall when he attends San Jose State to major in mechanical engineering. (RC)

Girls Avoid the Agony of De-Feet

Senior Margaret Carroll has been running Cross Country since her sophomore year and she earned her Block M for varsity track that Same year.

Margaret states that, "I always have enjoyed running," and she went out for Cross Country to get involved. "The family atmosphere and relations between the coaches and the team members makes everyone do their very best." Her favorite place to run is the San Leandro Marina at sunset. "It's so calm and relaxing," she says.

In addition to Cross Country, her school activities include membership in CSF, the French Club, and Outspokin'. Margaret has also performed Irish dances and enjoys calligraphy.

She will be attending St. Mary's College in the fall and will be studying diversified liberal arts. Margaret hopes to one day teach young children at the elementary level.

ARE THE MAIN SPORTS OVER-EMPHASIZED?

LORRAINE PEREIRA, 83: In a way, I believe so. I think that girls' sports need to be more publicized. We could be having a great season and no one would know it. I think a lot of it has to do with the cheerleaders. They cheer for a few sports and that is it.

SIOBEN SWEETMAN, 82: Definitely yes! Especially football and basketball. The other sports should be recognized also. Cheerleaders are over-emphasized also.

JANET CORREIA, 85: No way! I love 'em!

THERESA FREITAS, 85: At times, yes. But I believe it builds school spirit, so it's needed.

SUE FUCHSLIN, 82: Yes, especially football. I think the soccer teams had much better records. Girls' sports aren't EVEN emphasized.

BETH HORMEL, 84: Yes! Not everyone can participate in them, and they aren't the only activities at Moreau. Drama, band, and other things require the same team effort but don't get the recognition and emphasis they should.

DAVE BORGHI, 85: Not if you're an athlete!

TISH SCOTT, 84: Definitely. This school lives for football. Whatever happened to sports like tennis or golf? We never have rallies for sports like that.

MICHELE MCMEARN, 84: Baseball isn't emphasized enough, . . . especially the JV team.

DEREK NASARIO, 82: To be frank, no. Football is #1.

Varsity Slam Dunks

The 1981-1982 Boy's Varsity Basketball Team started out with a very successful 9-3 preseason. They were also strong in the Catholic Athletic League and were rated as high as #8 in the East Bay. Unfortunately, about half way through the league play many players were hit with sickness and inelegibilities. The season ended 16-10 overall and 7-7 in C.A.L. Awards were presented to the following people: Guy Beach- All-League; most valuable player, T.J. Fernandez- All-League honorable mention; Mr. Mariner award, Manuel Fumero- Most Improved player, Brian Hansen- Most Inspirational player, Tony Catson- All-Tournament team at Lincoln-Stockton tournament, Paul Gomez- All-Tournament team at Riordan Crusader Classic in San Francisco. Shooting To Win J.V. Basketball

Junior Varsity Basketball had another challenging season, but came through with promising scores against tough defenders such as O'Dowd, De la Salle, and Berkeley. The players proved to be very competitive in their league, which is one of the top three leagues in the bay area, and hope to have taken a strong step towards being a positive addition to the Varsity program. Victorius Freshmen

Under the coaching of Tony Dorado, the Frosh Basketball Team had an exciting season this year. The team had an over-all record of 20-6 and a 10-4 league record with a 3rd place honor. Leading the team with outstanding performances were Joe Devane and Brian Lazano who both were 1st team all-league and All-Tournament selection in the St. Elizabeth Tournament. Darren Lewis was team leader and took an Honorable Mention All-League place. Coach Tony Dorado was very happy with his team. He said, "The team progressed very quickly throughout the season. They all worked very hard and got along with each other". (D.M.)

Varsity Soccer

Behind the strong defense of Chris Harper and Scott Rivenes and offense of Kevin Talan and Bill Cotter, the Varsity Soccer Team was able to again capture and defend their C.A.L. title. Abilities of the returning Seniors (Rico Bevilacqua, Vince Bevilacqua, Chris Denten, Kevin Afonso, Richard Ffrench, and Ed Zapotoczny) combined with Pat Rudy's dynamic coaching to lead their team to a successful 11-1 record season.

The league playoffs revealed a part of their energetic season where powerful efforts were clearly displayed. Their victory over Kennedy 2-1 led them on to face Amador High. At the conclusion of two 10 minute overtimes and a shootout, where kicks were performed by Chris Harper, Bill Cotter, Hans Weber, and Omar Rodrigues, their strategic energy was not enough to capture a victory, and Amador slipped past them 3-1.

It appears that another C.A.L. title was in the making for the Varsity team. Chris Harper commented, "Despite losing several Seniors, we will be aided by many good Junior Varsity players that will be strong support next year." Scott Rivenes added, "I think that our team performed well this year. I am looking forward to a stronger team next year and another C.A.L. title." (DiM)

Kicking It Off

Success was also a prime factor in the league of the Junior Varsity Soccer Team. With combined efforts from defensive players Jeff White and Jan Grywczynski, and offensive players Harold Pickell and Peter Pomeroy, the team was able to conclude their league with a 18-1-1 standing. Coaches Mark Rich and Mark Talan provided their team with skill and a performance of ability that heavily aided their team against competition. Player Harold Pickell commented, "I think our team did a good job this year. I hope for a better season next year."

The determination and the will of the Girls Soccer team was undefinable in the eyes of coach Michael Flynn. Flynn commented, "The girls had an excellent season filled with skill and determination. A great will to win was shown through the shootout against Carondelet where they individually possessed self-determination to achieve their victory."

At the finish of an exciting year, the team concluded their season with a 12-0 record, scoring 82 goals. An ACAL record was accomplished by the team as being the only team to have no opponent score against them. The team advanced into the playoffs in an exciting game against Granada. The team's performance was outstanding; however, they suffered a loss to Granada 3-1.

The team deserves to be congratulated for an extraordinary year of skill and sportsmanship, as displayed by each team player. (Di.M)

Bump-Set-Spike!!

Spiking to a fascinating finish, the Mariner Varsity team captured a 1st place honors with an 11-1 record. Leading the team were 3 seniors who were named to the all league team. Suzy Carson was noted for her powerful hits, Danette Downs was an all around performer with a consistent serve and Janis Hyde was an enthusiastic player who improved throughout the season.

Ms. Chrisman proudly said "We played as a team and therefore beat teams that had only one or two outstanding players." Each player contributed her best talents and skill to enable Moreau to overcome all obstacles. Ms. Chrisman was definitely statisfied with this years accomplishments. She felt that although they had a poor pre-season record, they finished the season successfully. Ms. Chrisman feels that they should do very well next year. Mary Deggelman and Elise Russo have been very impressive and should be an asset to the Varsity team next season.(DM)

Bump! Set! Spike!!

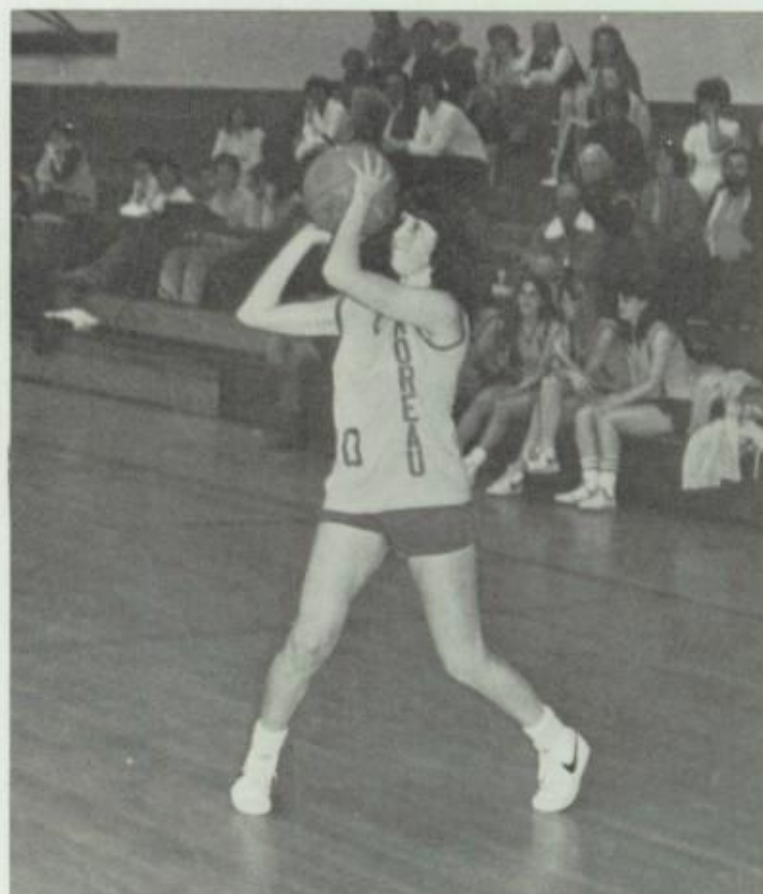

Facilitated by many extra hours of practice, the Junior Varsity Volleyball Team flew onto the court in startling action. They were a young team, led by two freshmen, three sophomores, and a junior, but they triumphed with a 9-0 season's record. The team managed to beat the challenging O'Dowd team twice, and the girls looked forward to building their strengths for hot C.A.L. league play the next year. (HK)

Girls Slam-Dunk Opposition

The Girls Basketball team had a very successful season this year; with a record of 20 wins and 9 losses, they tied for first place with Bishop O'Dowd. All-league players included; Shelly Erceg, Michie Sierra, and Tina Steinberger. The honorable mention players included Blanca Carrillo and Danete Downs. The coach of the team, Paul Phelps states that the team was very well balanced - The season was a total team effort. (K.B)

Mariners Succeed With 'Barry Ball'

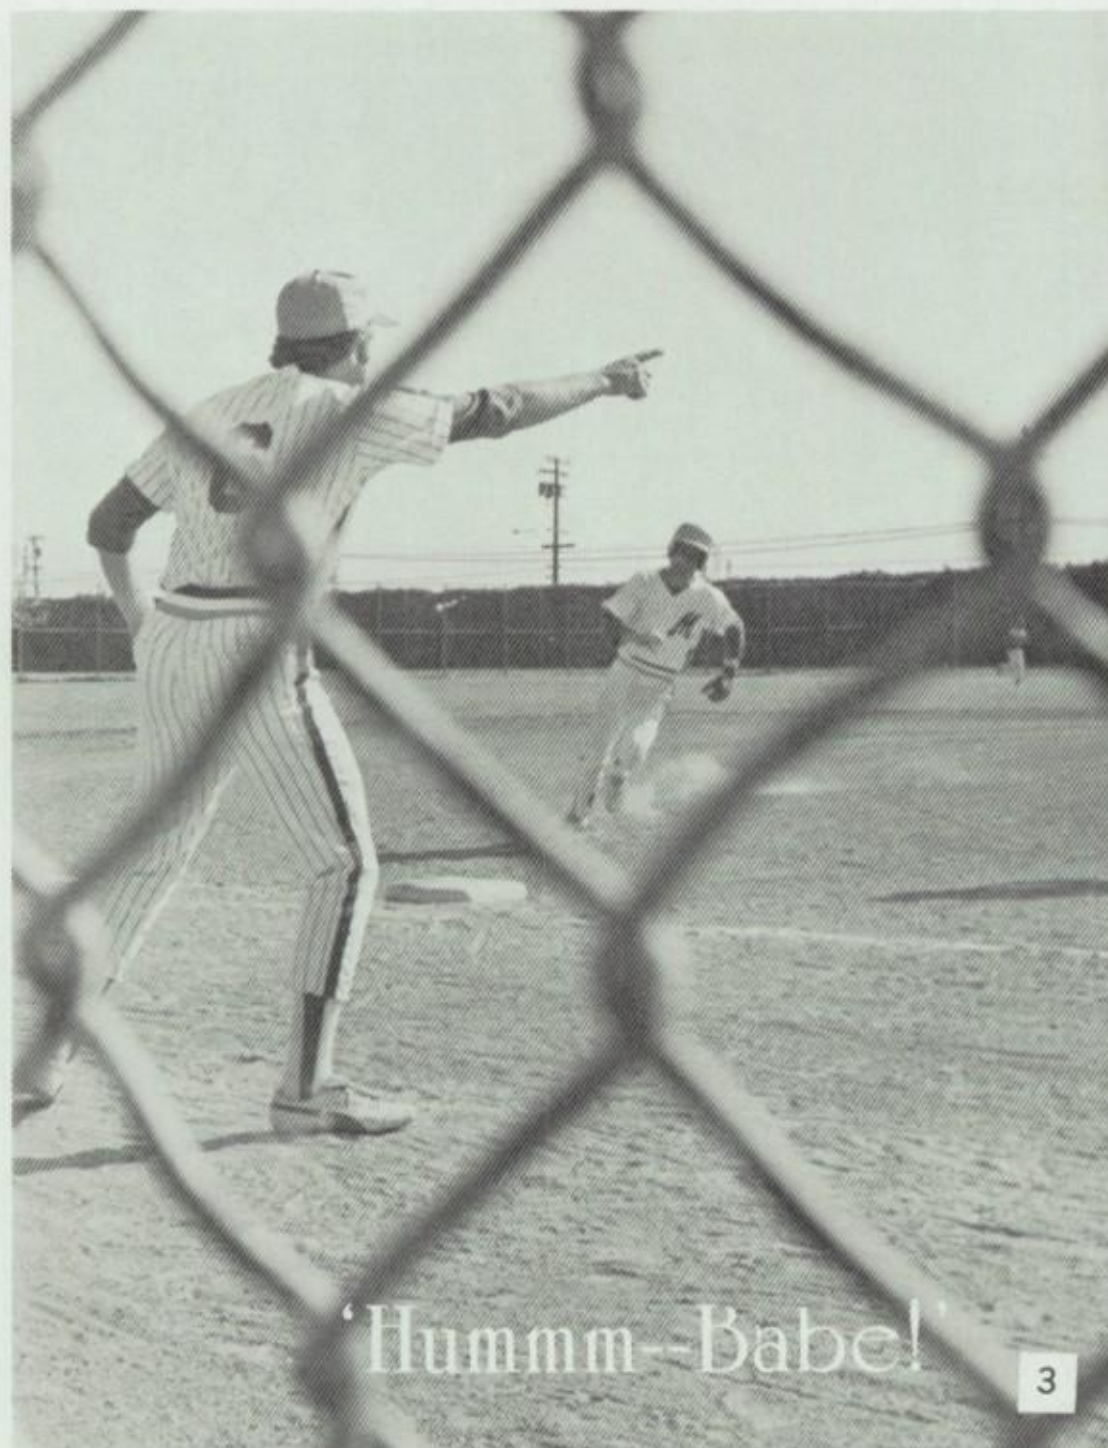

Good hitting, fielding, and pitching led the Mariner Varsity Baseball Team through an outstanding season, finishing with a 7-7 record. The team members are Jon Aquiar, Rico Bevilacqua, Andy Bittroff, Regan Candelario, Larry DeSilva, T.J. Fernandez, Greg Hernandez, Luis Molina, Bob Oliver, Mike Pereira, Todd Perras, Saul Rodriguez, Jim Thiede, Steve Torres. The coaches who led the Mariner team to their victories were head coach Barry Weiss, Rich Dutra, Jim Bowen, and Frank Filippini. The stats and the manager are always a big part of the team. Head stat was Michele Ortega, Cindy Chavez, Lisa Yurk, Margurite Shrader, Peggy O'Donnell and the manager was Jeff Lewis.

According to Coach Barry Weiss, the win against De La Salle on May 8th was one of the key games of the entire year. They beat De La Salle 5-4, which put them in the league playoffs. Bob Oliver did outstanding pitching in relief and 5 Home runs were hit by Steve Torres. The Mariners started the season by defeating Alameda 6-5. In their over all record, Moreau won 10, lost 12, and ties 1 game.

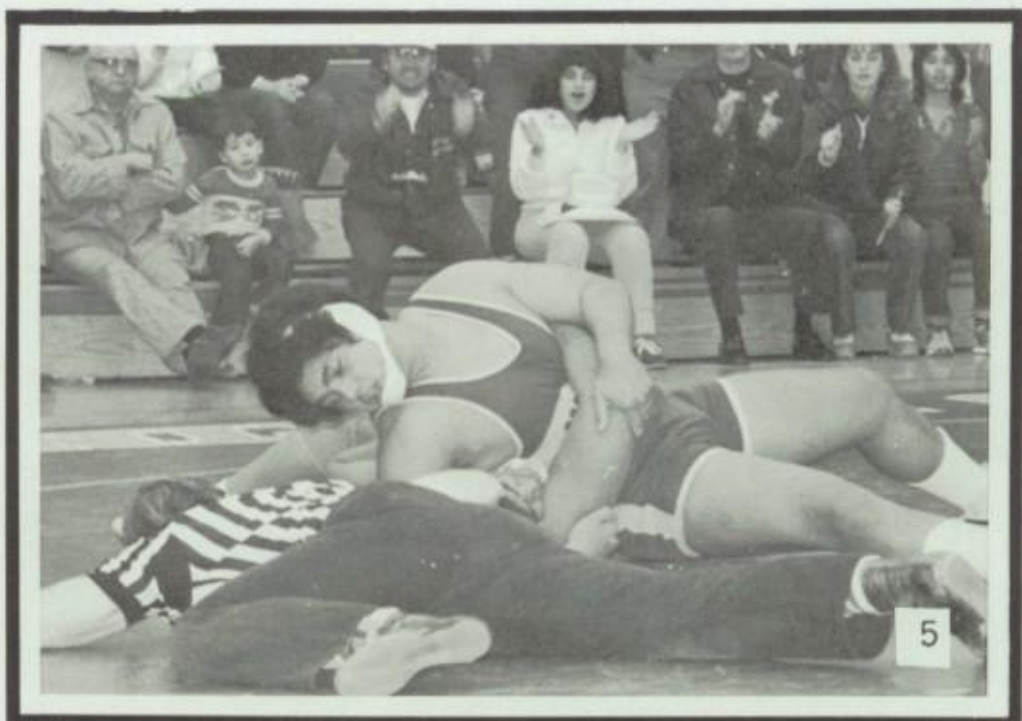

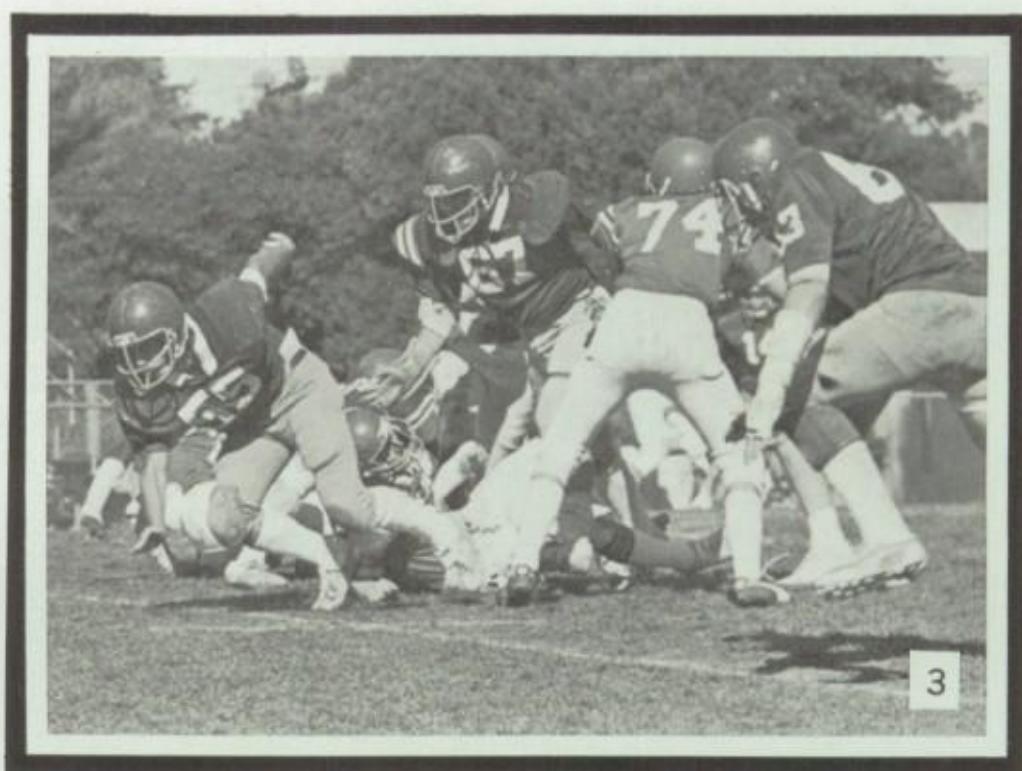

The season was a success due to the team effort. All the players contributed with key hits, steals, and defensive plays. The main offensive players were Bob Oliver, Mike Pereira, Steve Torres. The defensive players were Bob Oliver, Jon Aguiar, and T.J. Fernandez. Next year's season should be very promising for the team with players like Todd Perras, Luis Molina, Saul Rodriguez, Regan Candelario, and Greg Hernandez. (L.P.)

Track

The Boys Varsity Track Team coaches pushed their athletes to excellence and to a 3rd place league finish.

Many records were broken and new ones set. In the 400 meter relay a new record of 44.3 sec. was set by Bill Cotter, Darrell Harrison, Kevin Pratt, and Robert Spodobalski. In the 1600 meter relay Chad Nightengale, Kevin Pratt, Darrell Harrison and Robert Spodobalski set a time of 3:26.7. Running the 100 yard dash, Kevin Pratt clocked in at 10.7 sec. Steve Soto did well in the 2 mile as did Kevin Pratt in the 100 meter, and Robert Spodobalski in the 400 meter. All these Stars competed at NCS and qualified for The Meet of Champions, which was held May 28th.

The coaching staff, led by Mr. Phil Wilder, "was the best we've had in a long time," thinks Bill Cotter. Also among the coaches Was 5 time All-American sprinter Mr. Ray Clark, who helped out our sprinters a great deal. Mr. Willie Lee, who coached the shot put and discus, helped out in the weight training programs.

At the awards banquet on May 26th, many members were honored. Voted most valuable were Robert Spodobalski and Steve Soto, and Most Inspirational was Ken Fontanilla. The Coaches' Award went to Kevin Pratt and Most Valuable In-field Event award went to Guy Beach.

Matmen

Take It To The Top

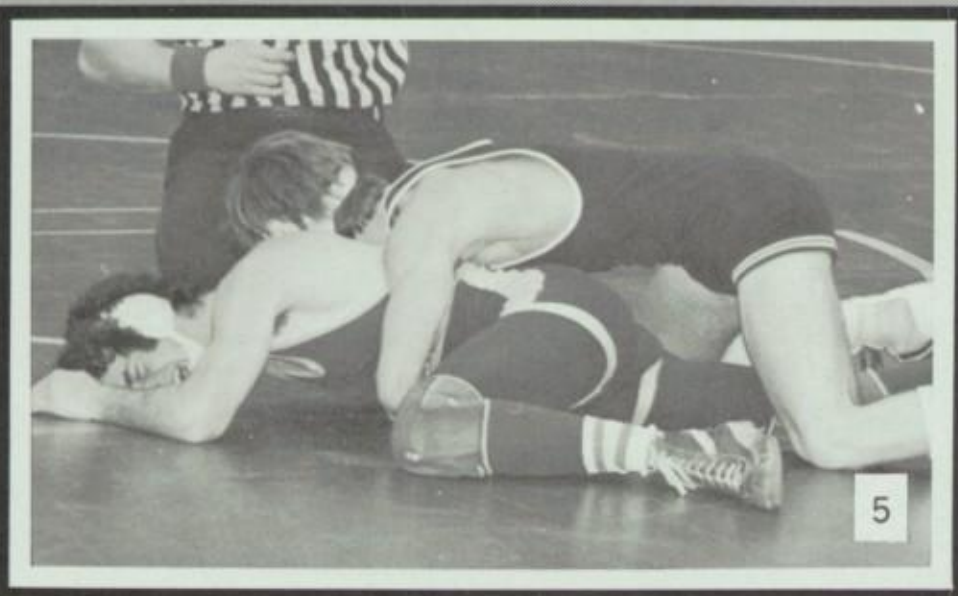

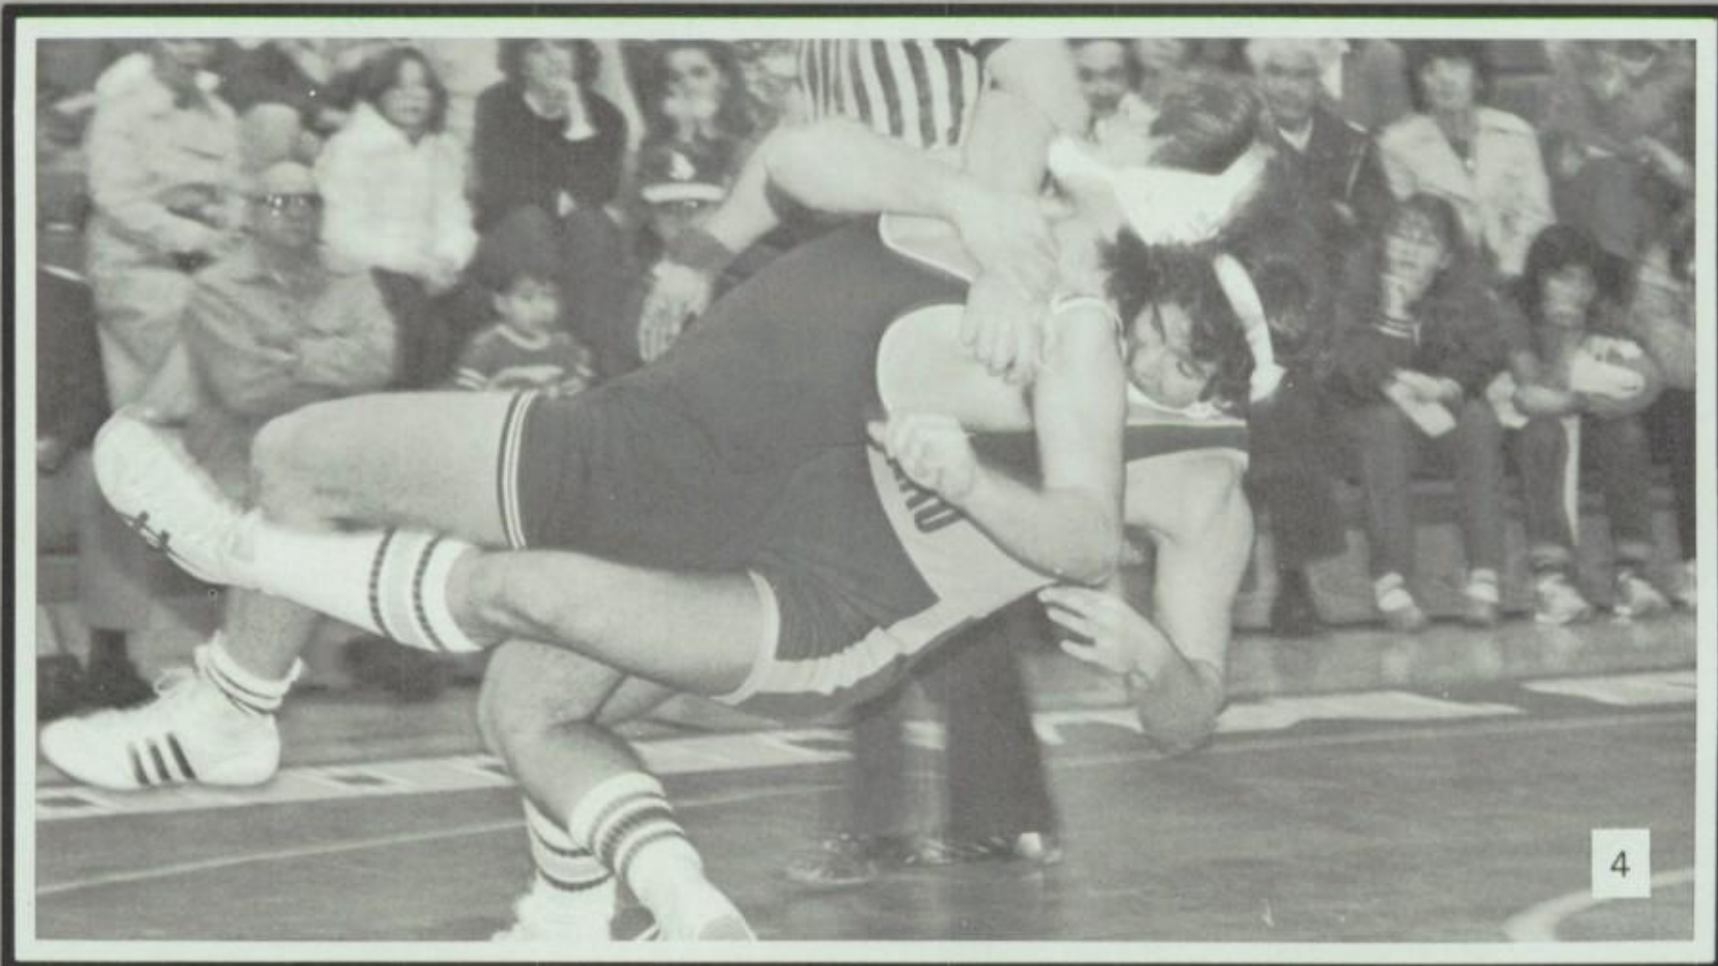

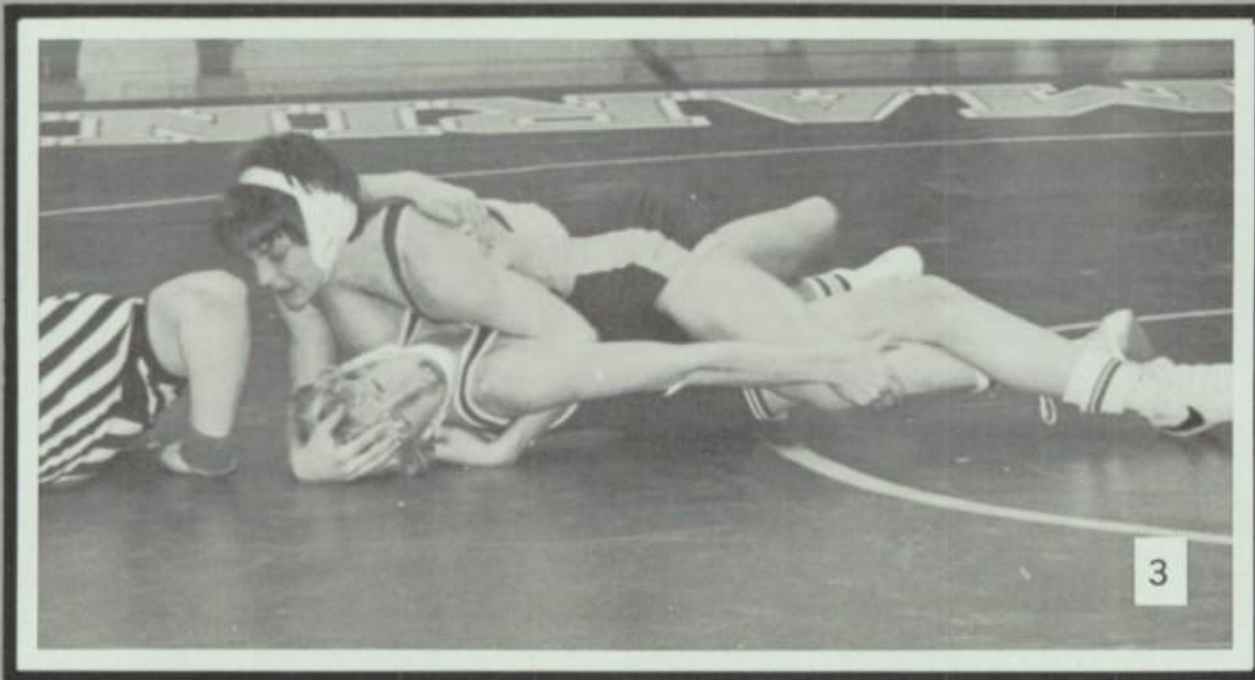

For the third consecutive year, the Mariners Varsity Wrestling squad has gone undefeated, while taking the league title for the third time. The Matmen have proven to be a team of power, strength and talent.

This year the team welcomed many new team members, many of which were freshmen. These enthusiastic wrestlers were successfully coached by Head Coach Rich Dutra and his assistants Brad Vadnais, Rich Serrao, and Dan Bettridge.

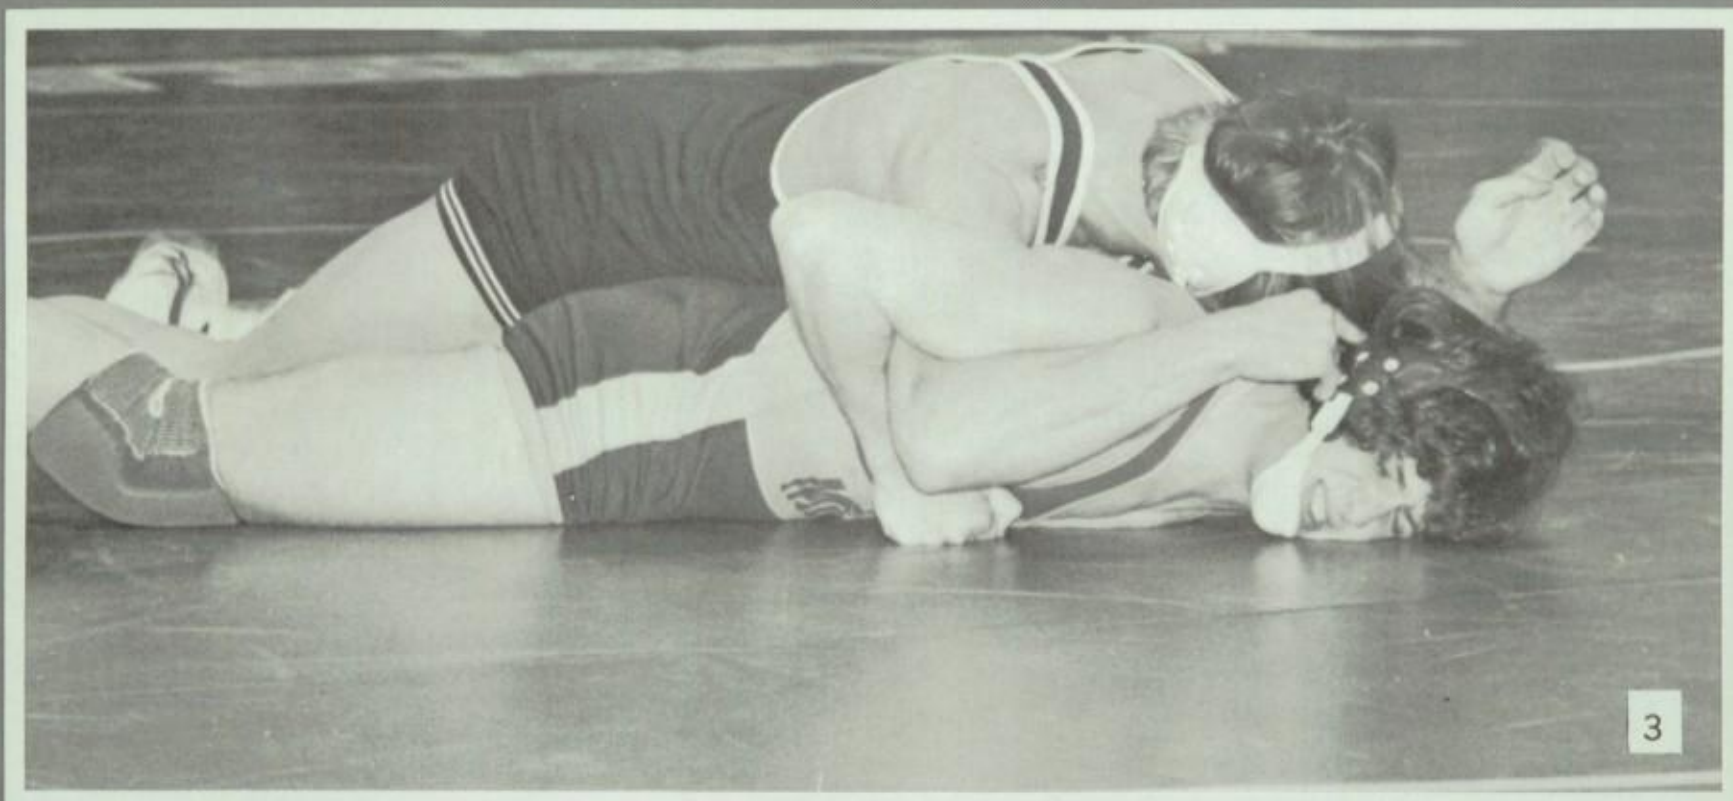

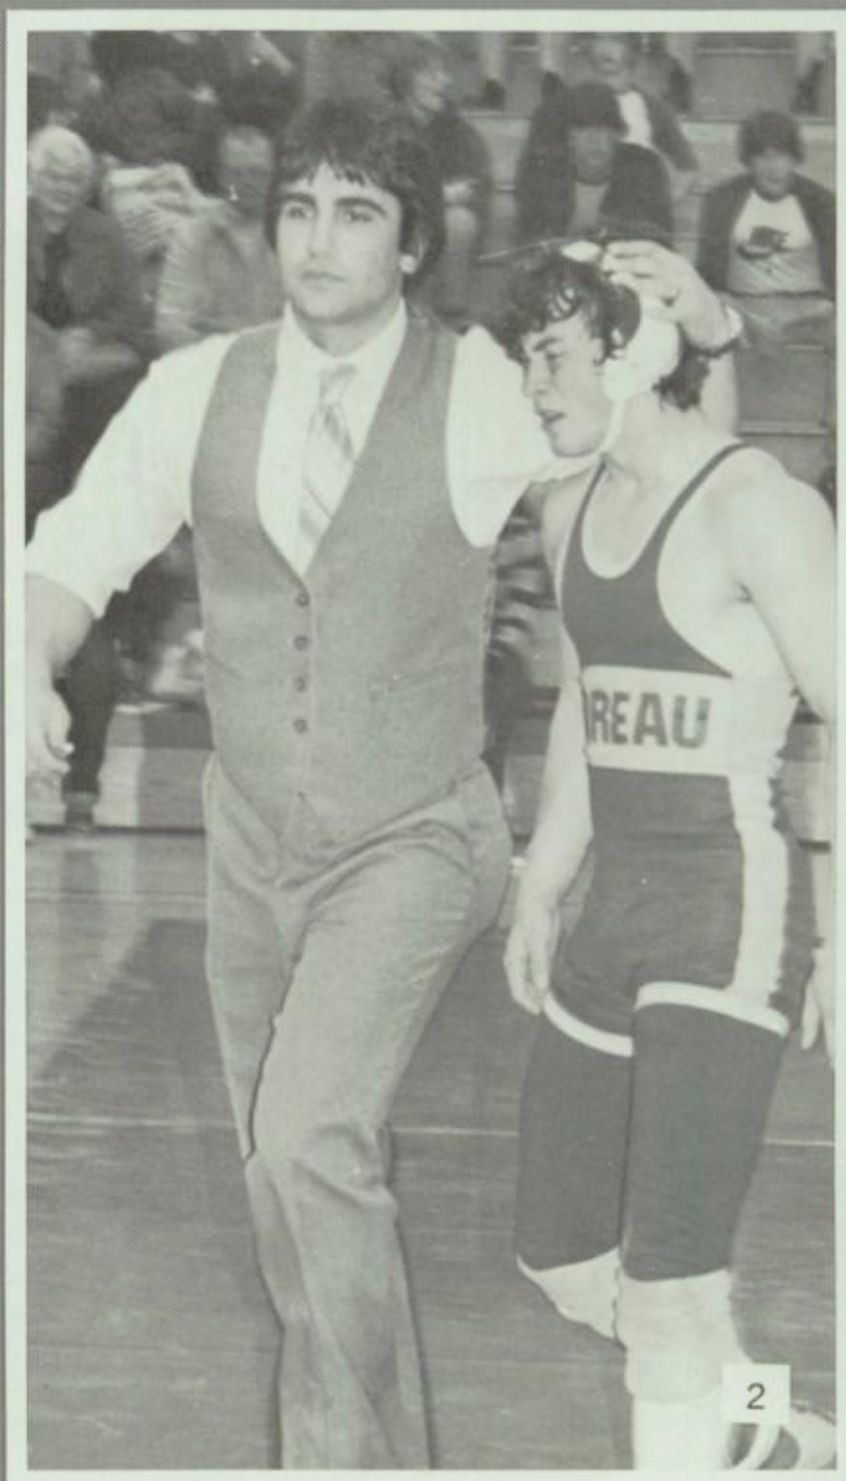

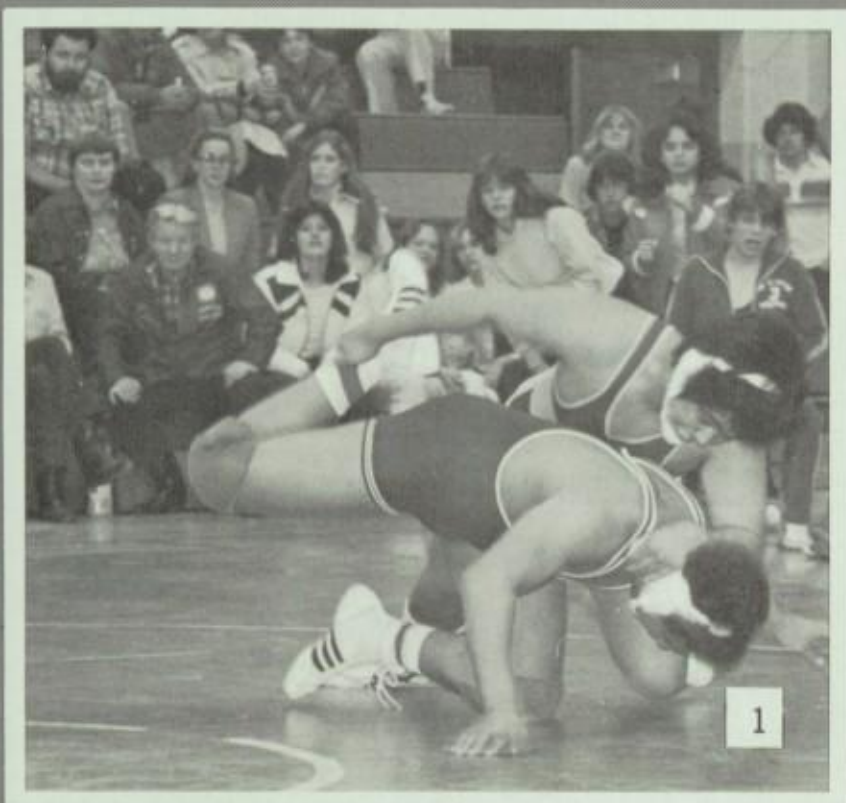

The dedicated Matmen wrestled to the spirited cheering of spectators and the tremendous amount of school support, unlike previous years.

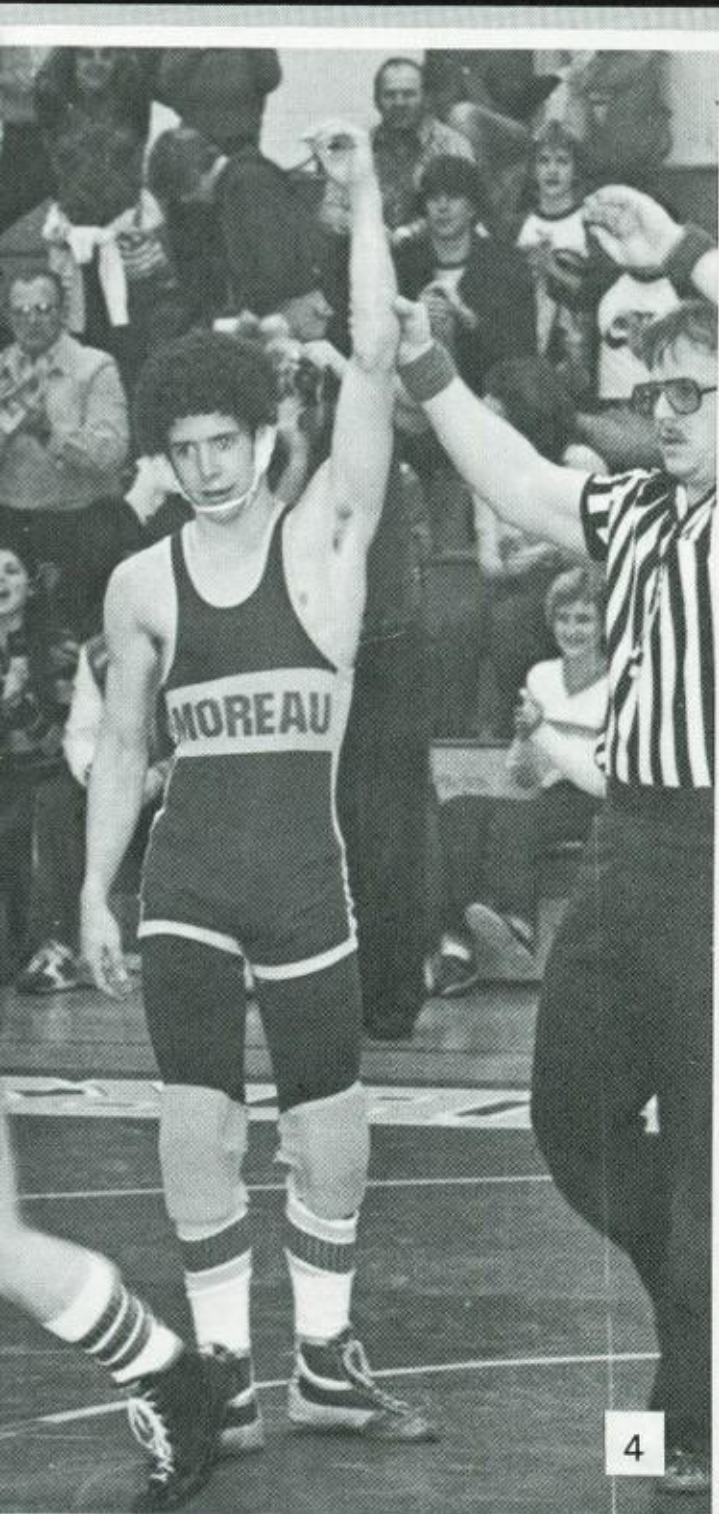

The 1981-82 season was one that each member of the team can be proud of. At the end of the season the Mariners proudly sent five of a possible twelve to North Coast Section Playoffs. These team stars included Don Finkes, Greg Garcia, Ken Benevides, Andy Fiammengo, and Scott Sizar. (LS,RC)

(1) Scott Sizar goes for the pin in a crucial match against De La Salle. (2) Coach-Rich Dutra offers Marc Blackard moral support after his tough match. (2) A De La Salle opponent attempts to pin Steve McEvilly. (4) Ken Benevides proudly raises his hand in victory. (5) Tamy Odgers questions the referee's call. (6) Wrestling Stats-Bottom Row: Stacy Thompson, Linda Parenti, Tami Odgers, Aileen Songey, Janice Buchanan, Lani Santiago, Chris Oliva. Middle Row: Audrey DiGrazia, Kathleen Vadnais, Lisa Schwarz, Lori Albright, Gina Wallpe, Debbie Teilh, and Erin Willet. Top Row: Janis Kovachich, Carmina DiFazio, Jenny Aliski, Tricia Gudino, Bridget Goranson, Janet Corria, Gina Franco, and Diane Gonzales.

Teaming Up For A Good Year

The Girls' Softball team was led by outstanding players such as Seniors Meri Rodrigues and Jeannie Davini. They finished their season with a 13-1 win/loss record, their only loss being to Carondelet, who tied them for first place going into the playoffs. When asked what kept the team going so well all season, Mrs. Galloway, the Varsity coach, replied, "Team unity is the key and positiveness is contagious!"(KK)

(1) Jeannie Davini knocks it out of the ball park to start a winning season. (2) Michie Sierra shows confidence in her team by relaxing between batters. (3) Karen Kennedy makes the moves on 1st base. (4) Karen Freitas watches Karen Kennedy let one slip by her. (5) Trish Roberts plans strategy with teammate Karen Kennedy. (6) Meri Rodrigues awaits action in leftfield.

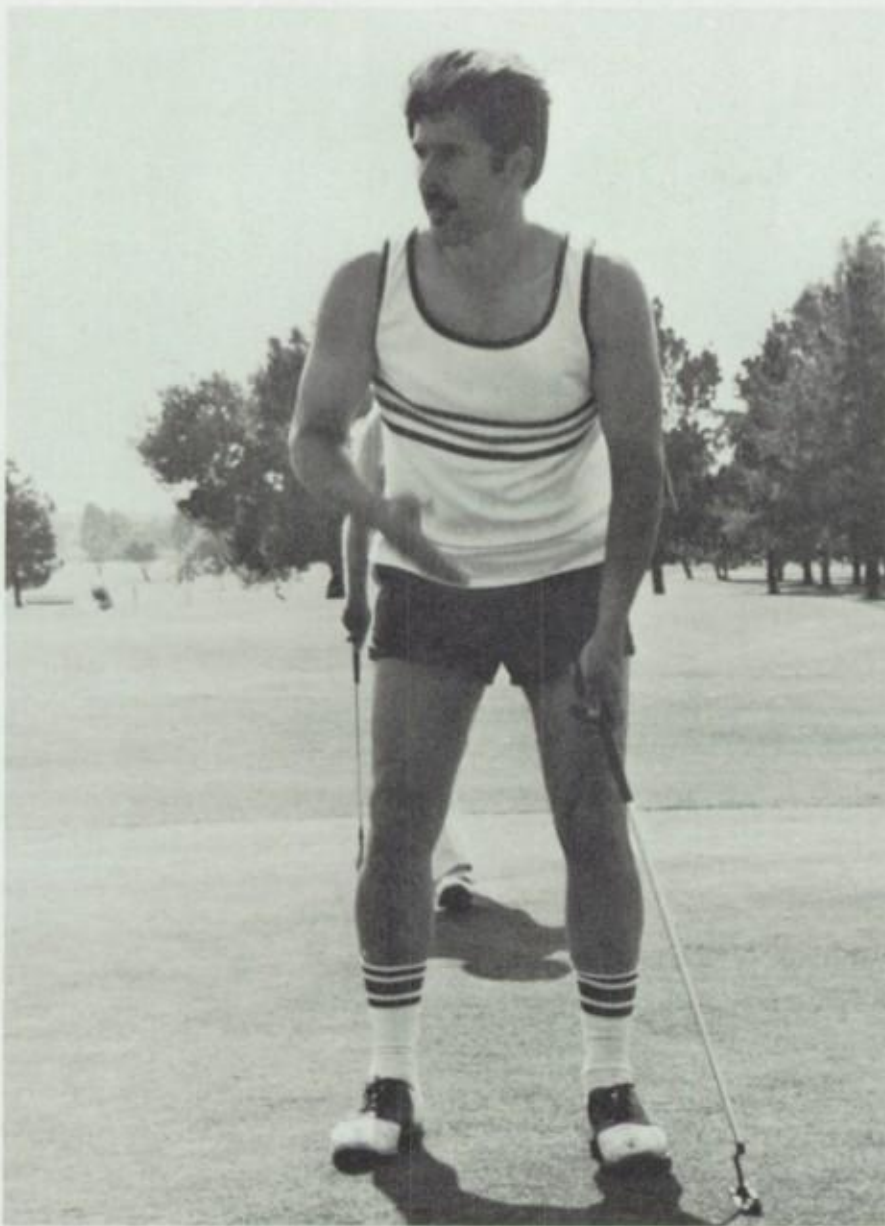

Swinging Into Action

The Moreau Golf Team, coached by Mr. Don Morneau, worked very hard this year and had a good season. Their overall record was 15-2, which was great. St. Pats of Vallejo has been undefeated since 1976 and unfortunately we lost to them again this year. But coach Morneau is looking forward to coming back and beating them next year for sure. The team has strong nucleus and many freshmen and sophomores will be able to advance their skills in the future. Jack Eckardt and Jim Martin were co-captains of the team. Two exceptionally good players were Jack Eckardt and Ryan Lema, who qualified for the North Coast Section. (DH)

(2) Mr. Breves gives a few pointers on how the game is played. (3) David Jupina swings hard to get the ball across the field. (4) Coach Morneau practices his swing. (5) Chris Denten, Paul McKenna, and Mr. Breves take a breather after a hard game. (6) Ryan Lema is ready to leave after a long game.

Tennis

The 1981-1982 Girls Tennis Team earned a reputation throughout the league. Other teams viewed Moreau as a team to look out for in the future. Opposing coaches were impressed with the depth of the Mariner squad.

A few students were Marina Franco, Annette Savage, and Enny Halkyer. As for upcoming talent, Jessica Gomez and Diane Econome will provide the team with some consistant play.

I would like to especially thank you all for all the great memories we've had our 4 years at Moreau. Remember . . . Freshman year, the bus rides, baseball games, Roger and Virginia? . . . Sophomore year and Junior year, San Francisco and Alameda beach, Los Angeles, Creekside and Sonora? The football game and games, Cull Canyon and Niles? And Senior year, the best! Remember Motel 6, all those parties, the beach, the drive-ins and the concerts? We've had so many great times. I wish all of you and everyone in the class of '82 GOOD LUCK. I'll miss you all!

TITLE

A Long Year for VOYAGER 1982

Change was the watchword for VOYAGER 1982. So much change that this yearbook can hardly be compared to any previous issue. Many of the changes were drastic, such as switching from a spring to a fall book. Although there was the usual outcry at first, most people appreciated the extra activities and sports that were included. If we had not changed to a fall book, Junior Prom, Senior Ball, and ALL spring sports would have been omitted because of early submission requirements. To compensate for missed autographs at the end of the school year, a special eight-page pre-supplement was given to all students. This enabled everyone to gather signatures of close and not-so-close friends if they had not planned on picking up their books personally in August.

Other drastic changes in the yearbook format included the use of spot colors on the division pages and in the theme section, and an eight-page senior color fold-out. Personalized name-stamping on the cover of the yearbook was offered to students, and more than half the student body accepted.

Some subtle changes were added to VOYAGER 1982. Specific theme development and the use of game pieces to represent sections of the book were employed to illustrate what life was like in 1981-82.

Putting together this year's book was an interesting experience for me. As a returning member of the staff, along with Dolores Miguel and Diane Heathcote, I had been involved intently with the production of VOYAGER 1981. The photographic effects produced in our darkroom by last year's Photo Editor, Joe Semien, intrigued me. I was determined to keep up with special effects because the student reaction was highly positive.

When we began production of VOYAGER 1982 in June 1981, we started with a theme. The idea behind a theme is to give a specific impression of the year's events. Incorporating the tentative "Games People Play," we wanted to give a picture of the mood of Moreau this last year. Sooner or later the theme evolved to "The Game" and included different aspects of games.

Once the general plan was set up, I created my THING - the signature planning guide, which specifies what goes on each page. (The first and last pages of the guide are ghosted behind the print on these pages). Extra room was given to some sports and activities, but because we had become a fall book, all of the activities and sports that had never been covered before demanded space in the book. I added an extra signature - 16 pages - and hoped that I didn't leave anything out.

HERFF JONES YEARBOOKS

The actual production of the yearbook, drawing layouts and ordering pictures, did not begin until October 1981. At that time I made weekly trips to Steve Rubiolo's Studio in Hayward to pick up and order prints. Rubiolo recently became Moreau's "official" photographer. The staff did generally well in completing layouts on time. Because of over anticipation of a deadline, we were ahead of schedule as of March 1982!

The Big Push came five times in 1982. The push was the week right before a big deadline. I would work until late in the afternoon developing pictures in the darkroom or until two or three in the morning correcting layouts and cropping photos. Once we stayed awake all night finishing up layouts for the next day. Although we may have waited until the last day to finish something, we never failed to meet a deadline - an accomplishment of our yearbook staff.

I owe our staff an infinite amount of gratitude for putting up with me this year. Whenever I was in "one of those moods," someone gave a kind word to cheer me up. The 1981-82 yearbook staff included Seniors Dolores Miguel, Diane Heathcote, Rachel Cirimele, Lani Santiago, Lisa Pandolfo, Laura McDonald, Karen Baker, Tonie O'Reilly, Melanie Cobb, Kristi Klokow, Doretta Carbone, and Juniors Teresa Chavez and Diane Miguel. Without the help of these talented individuals, the book would never possess the special touch of love that it has.

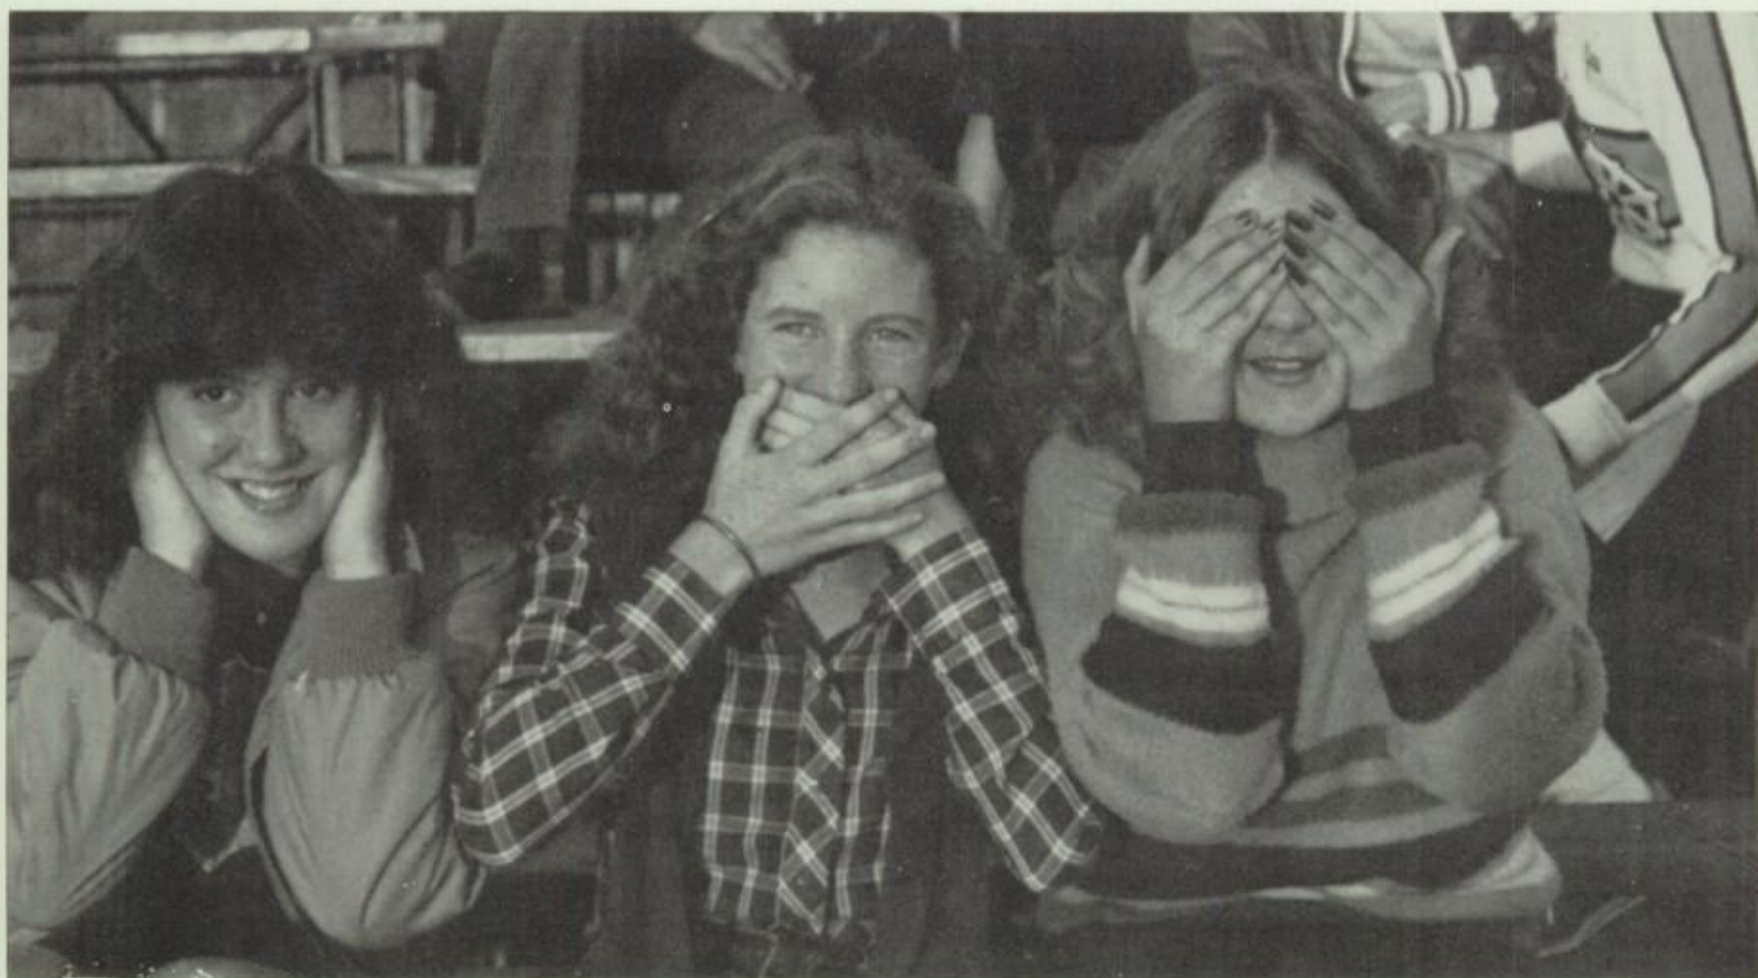

Ms. Paula Aiello and I go way back to last year. She's taught me much about moderation ("No, Harry, 270 pages of full-color costs too much!") and has been my mentor in human relations this past year when the staff and I were about to tear each other limb from limb. We've created a good working relationship based on trust which I will never forget.

Two people have had great input in VOYAGER 1982. One was our theme editor, Rachel Cirimele. For all that we've been through since sophomore year and the "Expo," I can only say that I regret that we've ended our term at Moreau. Liz Belda was photo advisor and took most of the football pictures. Thanks to Liz, Steve Rubiolo, and our other photographers, quality photographs found their place in the yearbook.

1981-82 was a year I will never forget. I hope that this book made a special impression on every reader - special enough to be an accurate memory of a year in the life of Moreau High School.
